Gore-Stained Overalls May Lead to Capture of Goodman's Slayers

One of the Men Under Arrest Admits Having Dealings With Dead Man

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 23.—Near the pool of blood, among the boxes and sacks in the basement of the San Francisco Produce Company, the detectives at 1:30 this afternoon found some of the stolen property taken from Goodman. There was a watch in a cotton bag with a tag on it, several other tags and articles of cheap jewelry. These were taken to the brilliant jewelry company for identification. Rogers will be taken to the scene this afternoon to see what effect the sight of the blood and of the loot has upon him.

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 23.—A pair of bloodstained overalls, discovered this morning in the locker of John F. Rogers, one of the suspects held in connection with the murder of Benjamin Goodman, is one of the latest and most important clues in the hands of the detectives. In addition, a careful examination this morning made by a reporter, who, however, was not permitted to move any of the articles in the basement, resulted in the discovery of many more patches of blood, and indicated beyond the shadow of a doubt that the actual murder was committed in the cellar of the San Francisco Produce company, Front and Oregon streets.

Finger prints, the use of which have recently formed an important part in the identification of criminals all over the world, are expected to prove a factor in the case. All last night the basement of the building of the produce company was carefully guarded by the police. Officer Ryan of the harbor station, in making his rounds

Tevis' Chauffeur Drives Auto From Roadway to Prevent Collision

W. H. Mackinnon and Son Help Haul Stranded-Out Machine

Only the prompt action of the chauffeur driving an automobile owned by Will Tevis of the Bay Cities Water Company prevented what might have been a fatal automobile accident on Tuesday night a short distance from Alvarado. As it was the Tevis machine in which there was, besides the driver, a man whose name could not be learned, plunged down a twenty-foot embankment to escape crashing into another machine, shaking up its occupants, although doing little damage either to them or to the machine. The occupants were rescued and the machine hauled out of the ditch only after a half hour's hard work on the part of W. H. Mackinnon and his son of this city, who were returning to Oakland in the Mackinnon machine.

According to the story told by the Tevis chauffeur, he was returning from the P. M. Smith preserves at Alvarado, where he and his companion had been shooting when, about a mile and a quarter this side of Alvarado and about seven in the evening, he met a man accompanied by two women driving a Buick 40.

The heavy beams were resting on a "horse" at the same angle in which they appear in the illustration when the auto crashed under them at terrific speed. The auto was so firmly wedged under the timbers that the firemen were obliged to cut off the rear wheels in order to move it.

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 23.—The revolutionary troops captured one of the forts on Chun Shan hill, Nanking, after several hours of fighting, according to a cable received today from Shanghai by the Chinese Free Press. The forts are the outposts situated a few miles from Nanking.

The dispatch says the revolutionary military committee has announced that massacres in Shen Si were committed by mobs composed mostly of Manchus and not by the revolutionary forces.

Dr. Wu Ting Fang and others are working on a proclamation which will be issued shortly, asking all nations to recognize the republic, according to a Shanghai dispatch received today by the Chinese daily paper.

Miss Anna Carlson Is Knocked From Speeding Car When Collision Occurs

Fred Saville-Smith, cashier of the Security Building Company, with offices in the Macdonough building, was instantly killed in an automobile accident at the corner of Twelfth and Oak streets shortly after 3 o'clock this morning, and S. Fred Walther, foreman of construction for the P. J. Walker Company, living at 185 Fifteenth street, lies in the Receiving hospital suffering from shattered ribs, a broken hip and internal injuries, while a young woman who accompanied them, Miss Anna Carlson, of 245 Leavenworth street, San Francisco, escaped with minor cuts and bruises. She was able to return to her apartments later in the morning, though suffering from hysteria.

BODY IS MANGLED.

Recklessly swerving from one side of the street to the other, the automobile, with Smith at the wheel, crashed head-on into a pile of four heavy house-mover's timbers, the ends of which were raised at an angle above the street. The machine was tightly wedged in the V-shaped trap. The protruding ends had struck Smith full in the head and chest, mangling his body in a terrible manner. Walther, seated directly behind Smith, was also forced beneath the pile, but his body was somewhat protected by that of the driver. Miss Carlson, who had occupied one of the front seats, was thrown to the street by a glancing blow of the timber above her.

WARNING LIGHTS.

Although a number of red lights had been placed along the street as a warning to travelers, Smith had evidently failed to see the timbers, his attention being at the time diverted to dodging a telegraph pole on the other side, according to the story of Miss Carlson. Each of the timbers was 12x12 inches and nearly thirty feet long. They were being used by Bert Henderson, a housemover, at work on the corner. One end of the pile had been propped up on a jack-frame and the obstruction was practically immovable.

Firemen were compelled to cut off the rear wheels of the auto before it could be dislodged from its position and the bodies removed. Axes were brought into play and the efforts of the department men were highly praised by those who were attracted to the scene of the tragedy.

PASSENGERS TAKEN FROM THE JOACHIM

Are Due to Arrive at Nassau Some Time This Afternoon.

NEW YORK, Nov. 23.—All the passengers of the Prinz Joachim, ashore on Atwood Key, a remote island of the Bahamas, have been taken aboard the Ward steamer Segurana and are now on their way to Nassau. This information was received at the Ward Line office here today in a wireless message from the Segurana, which apparently had been relayed by the steamer Vigilant, now at Nassau. The message read: "Segurana has all passengers from the Joachim. Bring to Nassau. Will arrive—Will keep you informed."

CAR CRASHES INTO HEAVY TIMBERS

edy. Owing to the great weight of the four timbers it was impossible to remove them in a short space of time. As a result of the impact the auto is a complete wreck, with its engines smashed and the entire body dismantled.

DEATH CAME QUICKLY.

All three of the persons were taken to the hospital, but it was found that Smith had been instantly killed, and the body was removed to the morgue.

The accident is one of the most horrible that has occurred on this side of the bay for a long time.

WOMAN HYSTERICAL.

Screams from the location of the accident attracted Patrolman C. C. Peters to the scene. The officer found Miss Anna Carlson wildly running up and down Twelfth street screaming at the top of her voice. The young woman was in a state of hysteria, and for sometime was unable to control herself sufficiently to give a coherent account of the accident.

A. J. WALTHER, who was seriously injured today in the auto wreck in which F. Saville-Smith was killed.

Patrolman Peters was reinforced by Patrolman Hemphill, who immediately perceived that it would be almost impossible to drag the automobile from beneath the heavy timbers used by the housemovers. Hemphill turned in an alarm for the fire department, that the firemen, with their axes and other equipment, might assist in moving the wreckage so as to remove the bodies of the victims with the greatest dispatch and the least danger.

By this time people in the houses on each side of the street had been aroused, and several calls were sent to the police station. Wagon Officer P. J. Toehman was sent with several officers and the police ambulance to the scene and assisted in taking A. J. Walther and Miss Carlson to the Receiving Hospital.

CAME FROM THE EAST.

A. F. Walther, who will probably recover, came to Oakland from Pittsburg, Pa., about a year ago. He has since resided with Mrs. M. Heist at the Del Mar apartments, 185 Fifteenth street. His step-sister, Miss Bertie Miller, a trained nurse, lives at 806 Thirteenth street. She has given up a case upon which she was engaged in order to care for her brother, whom she will have removed to his home as soon as possible. Miss Miller has lived in Oakland but a few months, having come here soon after Walther. The parents of the injured man are dead.

The car in which the party met with accident was the property of the company with which Smith was connected. Yesterday morning Smith appeared in the local Police Court and was fined $10 for speeding along Seventh street on Tuesday afternoon. He was arrested at Market street by the "Flying Squadrons" under Policeman James Flynn.

The Smith home is at 461 Central avenue, Alameda. Mrs. Smith, who went to San Francisco last Monday to visit her mother, was notified of the accident late this morning by representatives of the company with which her husband was connected. The couple were married some time ago in Tonopah, Nev., where Smith was engaged in mining. He was also interested in Manhattan projects before he came to Oakland. A brother-in-law is employed by the United Railroads in San Francisco, and Smith at one time worked in the Union Trust company, which position he left to come to Oakland.

Smith Played With Death, Says Woman

Miss Carlson, one of the victims of the accident, gave the following account of the fatal ride, to Patrolman Peters and Wagon officer Toehman: "I was with a party of friends from San Francisco at the Boulevard Cafe. They were having a good time and were drinking, and the fun was becoming a little too boisterous to suit me. I was very anxious to leave and return to Oakland, where I have friends, but there appeared to be no car line close to the hotel."

INTRODUCED TO SMITH. "Mr. Sullivan, proprietor of the place, learning of my desire to leave, offered to introduce me to Mr. Smith, who was a guest at the roadhouse, and who was about to return to Oakland in his automobile. Mr. Smith kindly offered to take me to Oakland, and I decided to go with him. A young woman friend who was with me feared that Mr. Smith might be a reckless driver, and declined to come with me.

"I was anxious to return, however, and we soon started. It did not take me long to regret that I had done so, however. Mr. Smith was driving, I was in the front seat beside him, and Mr. Walther was in the rear seat sitting directly behind Mr. Smith.

SCREAMED WITH FRIGHT. "You'll not get to Oakland tonight," Mr. Smith told me, and tried to put his arm around me. I told him not to get fresh. Then a spirit of reckless devilry seemed to enter into him, and he began to drive in a way to terrify me, laughing when I screamed with fright.

"We tore along at a terrific rate, sweeping from side to side of the roadway. Mr. Smith would direct my attention to a telegraph pole and would tell me that he was going to run the machine into it. Then he would swerve in that direction and start full speed for the pole. As we neared the pole I screamed with fright and tried to stand up in the car to jump, but Mr. Walther prevented me. Just as it seemed we would strike the pole, Mr. Smith would turn sharply and rush out into the middle of the road.

CHALLENGED BY POLICE.

"I think at one point we were challenged by a policeman and told to halt, but of this I am not sure. Again and again he would play his desperate trick of rushing at a telegraph pole, only to swerve aside, narrowly grazing the gutter and averting disaster.

"As we came down the street toward the place where the accident happened, he apparently noticed the red lights on the left side of the street, marking an obstruction, but probably did not see the lights on the other side of the street. I had by this time become almost paralyzed with fright, and when he seemed to direct the machine at the lights on the left I thought he meant to swerve out before he got there as before. That was probably what he did intend, but in playing with death to the left, he failed to see that he was caught in a blind street on the right as well.

HURLED TO STREET.

"The machine swung to the right, just missing the obstruction on the left side of the street, and hurtled into the great piece of timber on the right. I do not believe Mr. Smith saw the timber he struck. I had again attempted to stand up, and was thrown or brushed out of the auto into the street, receiving only small cuts and bruises.

"The end of the timber had smashed the front and upper portion of the car and had crushed the body of Mr. Smith back over the back of the seat, and over the body of the other man, thus protecting Mr. Walther in a measure. I do not know what happened after that, as I ran screaming for assistance."

F. Saville-Smith's Home in Alameda

ALAMEDA, Nov. 23.—F. Saville-Smith lived in one of the Max Dill cottages, at 461 Central avenue, moving to this city with his wife last April. He first occupied one of the Dill cottages at 456 Central avenue, later moving to the present home. His wife went to San Francisco Tuesday to spend the week with her mother, Mrs. Shepard, who lives on Green street, near Van Ness avenue. Smith was well liked by his neighbors. He kept his automobile in Max Dill's garage during the absence of Dill, who is on the road with his theatrical company. Smith was away from home a good deal of the time on business trips for the building company with which he was connected.

Death Is Waiting To Be Bridegroom

SACRAMENTO, Nov. 23.—Speeding across the continent on her way from her home in Italy to Sacramento, where she expects to become the wife of Plaminio Brocchini, a certain maid, is due to receive a sad surprise, for death has stepped in to break up the romance, claiming the life of the man whom she was to wed.

Brocchini died November 9 of a stroke of paralysis. Several weeks previous he sent word to his sweetheart in Italy to come to Sacramento, and in anticipation of her arrival he had purchased a pretty cottage and was furnishing it at the time of his death. The intended bride is expected to arrive within a few days, ignorant of the death of Brocchini.

man, whose name could not be learned, although he was a resident of Alameda, had been drinking, said the Tevis chauffeur, and was on the wrong side of the road, traveling unsteadily. To avoid a crash headon the Tevis chauffeur was forced to run his car down a twenty-foot embankment at the side of the road at the imminent risk of turning over. When Mackinnon arrived on the scene the Tevis machine was stalled, but after about a half hour's work it was gotten out but slightly damaged and proceeded on its way. All questions as to the man in the Tevis machine with the driver went unanswered.

Heroic Brakeman Saves Trains From Collision

Half Stunned by Fall From Car, Sets Danger Signal and Drops Senseless.

SAN BERNARDINO, Nov. 23.—Although partially stunned by striking his head on the rock ballast of the track bed when he was thrown off of the roof of the caboose on the rear end of his train, F. M. Kelly, a freight brakeman, retained consciousness long enough last night to save from collision with the freight a crowded transcontinental train on the Santa Fe mountain division. Kelly's train was due to stop at a short distance beyond where he fell and remembering that the fast passenger train was but a short distance behind the brakeman managed to keep his wits long enough to set a torpedo and signal flag. When the passenger train had halted Kelly was found unconscious beside the tracks.

Kelly was hurried to Barstow for treatment and then brought to his home here this morning.

"Let me walk alone," said Kelly, as he neared his cottage, "I don't want to have my wife frightened."

Here's a 'Cure' for Dull, Brittle Hair

"Careless or improper treatment of the scalp so often results in dull, brittle, 'stringy' hair," says Mrs. Mae Martyn, in the Baltimore Leader. "This is so easy to correct," she continues, "that it is possible for every woman to have beautiful hair, and an abundance of it."

"A teaspoonful of canthrox dissolved in a cup of hot water is sufficient mixture for a thorough cleansing of scalp and hair, and shampooing with this is of positive benefit. The canthrox mixture soothes, invigorates and stimulates, and quickly brings about a healthy condition, insuring plentiful growth of silky hair, that doing it up is a pleasure you will thoroughly enjoy."

SHADY BEND 'TAR PARTY' CASE GIVEN TO THE JURY

Verdict Expected Quickly, and Men Who Are Accused of Attack on School Ma'am Will Soon Know Fate

LINCOLN CENTER, Kans., Nov. 23.—After two and a half hours of argument by attorneys at the morning session of court the "tar party" case went to the jury today.

Six forms of verdicts, two for each of the defendants, were given to the jury. One was to be used in case of guilty and the other not guilty. Thus the jury may be able to find any one or all three of the men guilty or innocent.

There is a feeling here that a verdict will be reached quickly. No attempt was made by any of the attorneys for the defense in their addresses to defend the crime. Every effort was directed toward proving that the accused men had no hand in the planning or carrying out of the assault.

SUMS UP CASE.

Attorney Hawkes' address was a general summing up of the case. "The crime in this case," according to the defense," said Attorney Hawkes, "was to get Mary Chamberlain out of Shady Bend. Does it stand to reason that the boys of Beverly had any interest in getting her out of there? No. It was these men who desired to get her out.

"There is an old adage that it takes old men for counsel and young men for war. Compare the ages of these boys and these men."

LINCOLN CENTER, Kans., Nov. 23.—Before night the three defendants in the Shady Bend "tar party" case may know their fate. Two more closing arguments were scheduled for today. Colonel Dave Ritchie of Salina, Kas., first took the floor on behalf of the defendants. He was followed by S. N. Hawkes, assistant attorney general of Kansas for the state.

The jury was instructed last night so they were ready to begin deliberations when the arguments closed. Both sides were confident of a speedy and favorable verdict. No one connected with the case is more certain that there will be no convictions than is Mary Chamberlain herself.

"They are thinkers," she said, after noting the manner in which the jury followed the address of the counsel for both sides and certainly thinking, right-minded men can return but one verdict. I am confident that these men

MOORE BEGINS RECITAL OF STORY AT REDWOOD

San Francisco Clubman Starts Presentation of Case in Refutation of Wife's Charges in Divorce Case

REDWOOD CITY, Nov. 23.—Being an employee of the J. L. Moores was apparently very profitable. Judging from the testimony of Norman Green, formerly their chauffeur, and Corinne Schmidt Uyema, who was once Mrs. Moore's maid, the maid's deposition was read in the Moore divorce trial, and she testified that besides her salary Moore had made her several presents of money, in sums of $15 and $20.

Today the chauffeur took the stand and announced he had gone into the aviation business after retiring from the service of the Moores.

Moore's attorney took hold of the case today and began the direct examination of witnesses for the cross complaint. Green was asked to describe the ride to A. Mon Chateau during which Moore accused his wife of accepting improper attentions from a clubman whose wife was also a member of the party. The chauffeur said that the clubman sat at Mrs. Moore's feet in the automobile, but that he saw nothing improper in his conduct toward her.

Shamura, a Japanese who was employed as a servant in the Moore home in September of this year, was the first witness whose testimony was unfavorable to Mrs. Moore. He said that he had smelt liquor on her breath on three different occasions.

Life in the turbulent Moore household in San Mateo, as seen by Lillian Lucile Moore, the 13-year-old daughter of Mrs. Lillian Moore and her first husband, Avery McCarthy, who is suing J. L. Moore, the wealthy clubman, for divorce, was the pathetic picture worked into the record before Judge Buck in Redwood City yesterday. That in the battles that were waged between husband and wife Moore did not spare his stepchild was the testimony given by Lillian.

She told how, in desperate affection for her mother, she at one time joined issue and attacked Moore while he was abusing his wife.

During the afternoon session, while the startling deposition of Corinne Schmidt Uyema, former maid of Mrs. Moore, now wife of the Japanese, who was cook at the Moore home, was being read, Judge Buck declared that there was too much scandal in the document. The court has listened with some patience to the disarray of social broils and innuendoes "social," but Corinne's remarkable confessions, which with much frankness told of a romance and the alleged efforts of Moore to conduct an intrigue with her, was too much for the court.

GRAFT REMINISCENCES.

There was a reminiscence of the days

as much concerned as the ones who attacked me. They will be punished."

SENTENCE IN DOUBT.

Now that the case of the three defendants, Sherill Clark, A. N. Simms and John Schmidt, are virtually ended, speculation is rife regarding what sentence will be passed on E. G. Clark, Jay Fitzwater and W. Scranton, who pleaded guilty on November 16 to assault and battery in connection with the tarring. Sentence was deferred on the matter after the present trial. The court term ends here Monday, so the men must be sentenced before that time.

On the jury's verdict in the case of the three men to be tried on charge of complicity in the "tar party" is expected to hinge the fate of all the defendants in a case, probably the most sensational ever tried in Kansas.

The victim was Miss Mary Chamberlain, a Beverly, Kas., school teacher, aged 26 years, who worked in a Shady Bend, Kas., general store during the summer months. She was attacked on August 7.

BARBER IS DECOY.

Edward Ricard, a Beverly barber, who decoyed Miss Chamberlain to the scene of the "tarring," was the first man arrested. He was sentenced from a justice's court to twelve months in jail and appealed the case. On November 16 he pleaded guilty before Circuit Court Justice Dallas Grover. Sentence was deferred.

Everett G. Clark, president of a Shady Bend milling company, accused of being the leader of the "party," J. Fitzwater, a miller of Shady Bend and Watson Scranton, one of Clark's employees, pleaded guilty to assault before Judge Grover on November 16. Sentence, which may amount to a $500 fine and one year in jail was proposed.

Immediately following the pleas of guilty, Sherill Clark, a brother of the alleged ringleader, A. N. Simms, formerly an employe in the Clark Mill, and John Schmidt, a farmer of near Shady Bend, were placed on trial before Judge Grover. Awaiting trial on April appeal from a justice court's sentence of ninety days are Chester Anderson, Paul Robert Klingsparger, laborers, of Beverly.

Harry Armstrong, Benton Hall, Alfred Lindermuth, Benjamin Painter and Roscoe Anderson, laborers of Beverly, saw the "tarring" from behind a hedge and were fined $1 each in order that they might be used as witnesses in the case.

had shown her affection, she did not escape entirely from his rages. "Once," she said, "when he was attacking mother, I came into the room and began pounding him on the back to make him stop beating her. He turned and threw me down."

"Did he ever throw you down again?" she was asked.

"No, I always avoided him after that," she said. "Did he abuse you in other ways?"

The first witness called yesterday was Elizabeth E. Clayton, 628 Third avenue, this city, who attended Mrs. Moore on March last, under the direction of Dr. George L. Eaton.

The nurse testified that Mrs. Moore was bruised about the abdomen, the left breast, the arms and the back, and complained of severe pains in the ear. She was suffering from a cold, a violent trouble. Miss Clayton said that she had treated other cases of the same disease where there were also external bruises on the body over the affected organs.

Miss Clayton said that while she was with Mrs. Moore she never detected any signs that Mrs. Moore used liquor.

Mrs. Thomas B. Eastland, the society woman, half sister of Mrs. Moore, testified to the relations between the Moore family. She had noticed her sister closely, but never discovered any signs of the use of liquor.

"Mr. Moore was very sarcastic to his wife and didn't have a kind word for any one," Mrs. Eastland testified. "I begged Mr. Moore to get along with his wife. I told him that she was too much in love with him to behave as he accused her."

FOUND IT UNTRUE. Once, she said, Moore told her that his wife was drunk at a bridge party. She telephoned to the hostess, said the witness, and found that it was not true. Another time, Mrs. Eastland said, she discovered that Moore had falsely accused his wife of impropriety. Moore had accused his wife of infidelity to Mrs. Eastland, but had mentioned no man's name.

On cross examination by McClanahan, Mrs. Eastland said that she and the Moores were in the same social set, but that they had seldom visited in recent years, as Moore had criticized her friends.

"That was during the graft prosecution," asked McClanahan.

"Yes," said Mrs. Eastland.

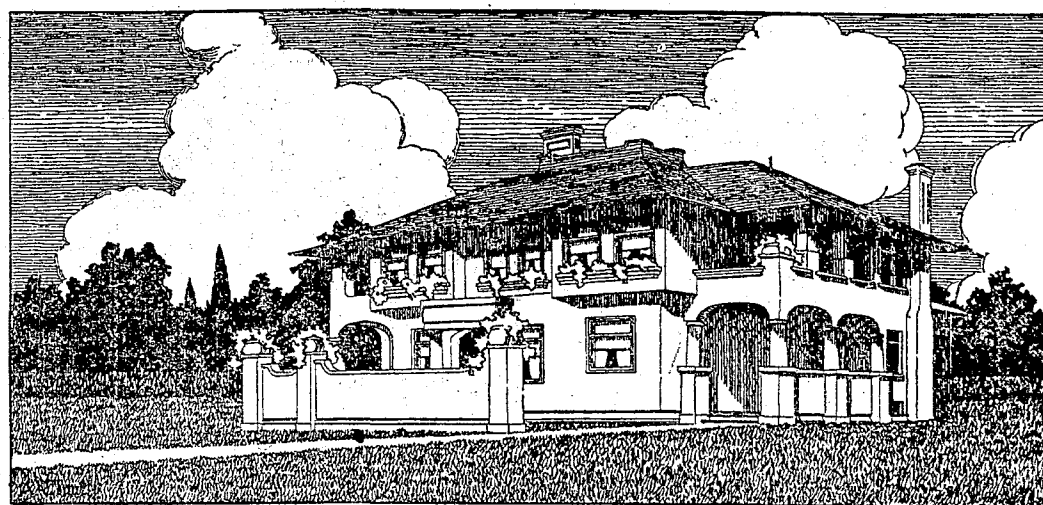

"He took one side and you the other?"

"Yes."

The deposition of Corinne Schmidt Uyema, the chief contribution to the scandal of the day, was read by the two attorneys. Jordan reading the direct examination of the witness and McClanahan the cross examination. Moore from March to November of 1910. She said that she had never seen Mrs. Moore under the influence of liquor. She was

FUMIGATION OF COAST STEAMERS IS ORDERED

SACRAMENTO, Nov. 23.—State and Federal health authorities are taking steps to prevent the reinfection of California rats with bubonic plague from rats in Seattle infected with the disease. In order to do this a strict rule must be enforced providing for fumigating all coastwise vessels, and especially those plying between Seattle and the ports of California. W. C. Rucker, assistant surgeon-general, in charge of San Francisco, and Acting Surgeon-General G. M. Converse, San Francisco, have sent communications to the state board of health on the matter and have asked that the state again assist in rat eradication on the coastwise steamers.

The Human Heart

The heart is a wonderful double pump, through the action of which the blood stream is kept sweeping round and round through the body at the rate of seven miles an hour. Remember this, that our bodies will not stand the strain of over-work without good, pure blood any more than the engine can run smoothly without oil. After many years of study in the active practice of medicine, Dr. R. V. Pierce found that when the stomach was out of order, the blood impure and there were symptoms of general breakdown, a tonic made of the glyceric extract of certain roots was the best corrective. This he called

FAST RIDERS SCHEDULED FOR MOTORDROME RACES ON SUNDAY

Four of the starters in the 10-mile professional motorcycle race on the motordrome lining up awaiting the starter's signal.

Two star motorcycle races will feature the third card to be offered at the Oakland Motordrome on the coming Sunday. A six and a ten mile professional event, having as entrants all of the star riders now here, will serve to give the spectators a taste of the most exciting sport in existence. The program as outlined is by far the best yet presented on the local track.

At least eight will face the starters signal in each of the two feature events. Ray Seymour, recognized as one of the most daring of the boys following this dangerous pursuit, will have a new machine ready for battle. Walters, the present champion, is out every day for at least several hours, tuning his fast ex-celsior. He is determined that a recurrence of the trouble which forced him out of the different events last Sunday will not arise. Armstrong and Balke also are both on the track for practice every afternoon.

DE ROSIER TO COME.
Jake De Rosier, formerly motorcycle speed king and holder of many of the world's records, is expected to put in an appearance within the next week. Negotiations have been under way between the Frenchman and Prince, for the last few days, and there is every reason to believe that De Rosier will be seen here. Theo Samuelson has recovered from the injuries sustained in his mixup with Seymour Sunday and he will ride again this week.

Meyer elect Ralph of San Francisco may be the starter in the third carnival of speed. He is an enthusiast on the subject of motorcycle racing and took an active part in the opening Motordrome meet last April.

Even better car service than that on last Sunday has been promised by the Traction company.

THREE FAST RIDERS.
The stripped stock amateur events, one of which is put on at each race, is bringing out a number of riders who will soon rank as among the best in the land. Walker of this city, Oberg of San Jose and Bud Northup, also from the garden city, are without doubt three of the fastest in their class in the country. Northup is a record holder, having to his credit many of the present long distance track marks. Walker, until recently was really unknown. At San Jose and on the Oakland saucer track he has shown himself to be a rider to be reckoned with every time he starts.

Why is the soda cracker to-day such a universal food?

People ate soda crackers in the old days, it is true—but they bought them from a barrel or box and took them home in a paper bag, their crispness and flavor all gone.

To-day there is a soda cracker which is the recognized staple — Uneeda Biscuit.

Uneeda Biscuit are the most nutritious food made from flour and should be eaten every day by every member of the family from the youngest to the oldest.

Uneeda Biscuit—soda crackers better than any ever made before—made in the greatest bakeries in the world—baked to perfection—packed to perfection—kept to perfection until you take them, oven-fresh and crisp, from their protecting package.

THREE INJURED IN HEAD-ON COLLISION

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 23.—A head-on automobile collision in the darkness of an overshadowed roadway in Golden Gate park at 3:30 o'clock this morning caused the injuries of three persons.

David A. Becke, bruises and abrasions of the body.

Mrs. David A. Becke, lacerations of the scalp and contusions of the body.

E. H. Hillegas, 125 East Twenty-eighth street, Los Angeles, sprained ankle, internal injuries and lacerated wounds.

Becke and his wife, who are proprietors of a hotel at No. 30 Seventh street, had been out to the beach and were returning in a taxicab by way of Fulton street.

At Sixth avenue, their machine was turned into the path and as it curved into the main drive, collided with a racing car driven by Hillegas. The machines were wrecked and all the occupants thrown out.

The chauffeur escaped injuries but the other two were hurt and taken to the Park Emergency hospital. Hillegas is a demonstrator for an automobile concern in the south and is here on a special trip. The condition of none of those hurt is considered serious.

AXTELL CASE IS NEARING FINISH

STOCKTON, Nov. 23.—The closing argument for the defense in the trial of S. B. Axtell, charged with the murder of Charles Sollars, was made today by A. H. Ashley, leading counsel for the defendant.

Former Judge W. B. Nutter will close for the prosecution. Ashley began his argument at 10 o'clock this morning and had not finished at 2 o'clock this afternoon. He scored the prosecution's witnesses mercilessly and was particularly bitter against Dr. A. W. Holsholt, an alienist, who testified that Axtell was sane when he killed his victim.

"He is the baldest theorist that ever came into a courtroom," declared the attorney.

He then turned his attention to the reporters, who investigated rumors concerning Axtell and wrote stories about the "joy ride," declaring that they were responsible for the tragedy.

He endeavored to persuade the jury that Axtell was insane when he fired the shots.

The Los Angeles schedule of commissions was adopted by the executive committee of the Oakland Real Estate Association at its meeting yesterday.

SKULL BROKEN BY FALL FROM HORSE

SAN LEANDRO, Nov. 23.—Mrs. H. J. Zacker, the young bride of Harry Zacker, a prominent business man of San Francisco, sustained a probable fracture of the skull and three broken ribs yesterday afternoon when a horse the young woman was riding became frightened at a street car and ran away. The horse bolted down Hayward avenue, just escaping collisions with cars and wagons, and turned up Davies street toward the boulevard. At this point Mrs. Zacker, who had until then clung to the reins and kept her head, fainted and was thrown heavily to the ground, striking her head on the cement gutter on the roadway. She was picked up by a passing automobile and taken to the office of a physician, where her injuries were dressed.

The young couple live at 348 Callen avenue, this place. Mrs. Zacker was formerly Miss Nedra Cook of San Jose, and was married at the Palace Hotel in San Francisco last month. Zacker is connected with a large wholesale firm in the latter city. The couple have made their home here since their marriage.

Smoke of Herbs Cures Catarrh

A Simple, Safe, Reliable Way and It Costs Nothing to Try.

This preparation of herbs, leaves, flowers and berries (containing no tobacco or habit-forming drugs) is either smoked in an ordinary clean pipe or smoking tube, and by drawing the medicated smoke into the mouth and inhaling into the lungs or sending it out through the nostrils in a perfectly natural way, the worst case of Catarrh can be eradicated.

It is not unpleasant to use, and at the same time it is entirely harmless, and can be used by man, woman or child.

Just as Catarrh is contracted by breathing cold or dust and germ-laden air, just so this balsmy antiseptic smoking remedy goes to all the affected parts of the air passages of the head, nose, throat and lungs. It can readily be seen why the ordinary treatments, such as sprays, ointments, salves, liquid or tablet medicines fail—they do not and can not reach all the affected parts.

If you have catarrh of the nose, or your lungs, choking, stopping up feeling, colds, catarrh of the head, or if you are given to hacking and spitting, this simple yet scientific treatment should cure you.

Illustrated book which goes thoroughly into the whole question of the cause, cure and prevention of catarrh will, upon request, be sent you by Dr. J. W. Blosser, 746 Walton street, Atlanta, Ga.

He will, also, mail you five days' free treatment. You will at once see that it is a wonderful remedy, and as it only costs one dollar for the regular treatment, it is within the reach of everyone. Simply send your name and address and the booklet and free trial package will be mailed you immediately.

TILDEN'S NEPHEW AGAIN IN TROUBLE

Douglas Tilden, nephew of the famous California sculptor of the same name, was formally charged this afternoon with burglary upon his confession that with Thomas Fowler, a 19-year-old youth, as his accomplice, he had entered four Oakland residences since November 15, and had stolen jewelry, silverware and other valuables, amounting to about $300.

Tilden and Fowler have been held in detention in the Oakland city prison since last Sunday evening when they were captured by Captain Charles Beck after a burglary had been committed and the residence of Mrs. E. M. Campbell, a prominent society woman, residing at 1404 Webster street.

The two young men have been under investigation since their capture by Inspectors James Drew and William Quigley, but it was not until today that the police succeeded in connecting them with the crimes committed. When confronted with evidence the two young men broke down and confessed.

EVIDENCE IN CACHE.

Evidence, discovered by the police, was found in a cache in the culvert of Cemetery Creek in East Oakland, and consisted in silverware and clothing taken from the residence of H. B. Nichols, 301 Oregon street, on the night of November 15.

The other residences entered by the two were those of Mrs. Klein Dutton, 899 Twenty-second street, and M. Riegelman. Nothing was taken at the Dutton residence while at the Riegelman the two young burglars, finding nothing of value, revealed themselves on pie and cake and other delicacies which they found in the larder.

The Duttons, Riegelman and Campbell burglaries were all committed on the night of November 15. Young Tilden has been in trouble with the police before and there was at one time plans on foot to have an operation performed upon his skull to see if it might not cure him of criminal tendencies. Tilden is 23 years of age and was born in Oakland only about two months and the police know nothing of his previous record. The two young men will be arraigned in Judge Samuel's court tomorrow morning.

NEW GRAND JURY DRAWN TOMORROW

District Attorney Donahue announced this afternoon that the Grand Jury for the current year, provided for by law, would be drawn in the criminal department of the Superior Court tomorrow, in all probability. The Grand Jury recently discharged, held over from 1910, was prolonged on account of the immense volume and importance of its business months beyond the usual time, and while the Inquisitorial Jury now to be drawn by Judge William S. Wells will, according to the District Attorney, have little business to transact, it must be empaneled to comply with the law which requires the convening of a Grand Jury in every county in the State once a year.

REDDING, Nov. 23.—H. F. Baker, a newspaper reporter, who interviewed George Vailier's companion, Harry Gobie, in company with Deputy District Attorney Chenoweth, the morning after Vailier's death, testified in the Fleming murder trial today that Gobie's mind was clear. He said that Gobie's account of the injuries he and Vailier had received on the roof of the Pullman car made no reference to a large man.

The prosecution has tried to show that a large man, referred to in testimony as having been on top of the Pullman, was Fleming.

SAGE TEA WILL DARKEN THE HAIR

There is nothing new about the idea of using sage for restoring the color of the hair. Our great-grandmothers kept their locks soft, dark and glossy by using a "sage tea." Whenever their hair fell out or took on a dull, faded or streaked appearance they made a brew of sage leaves and applied it to their hair, with wonderfully beneficial effect.

Nowadays we don't have to resort to old-time, tiresome methods of gathering the herbs and making the tea. This is done by skillful chemists better than we could do it ourselves, and all we have to do is to call for the ready-made product, Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Hair Remedy, containing sage in the proper strength, with the addition of sulphur, another old-time scalp remedy.

The manufacturers of this remedy authorize druggists to sell it under guarantee that the money will be refunded if it fails to do exactly as represented.

Don't neglect your hair. Get a bottle of Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur today, and notice the difference after a few days' use.

This preparation is offered to the public at fifty cents a bottle, and is recommended and sold by all druggists.

Feet So Sore Couldn't Walk Down Stairs—TIZ Cured Her Quick

If you have sore feet, tired feet, sweaty feet, lame feet, tender feet, sunken feet, corns, callousness or bunions, read what happened to Mrs. Crockett of Jeffersonville, TIZ DID IT. Mr. Crockett says: "After the second treatment she walked downstairs one foot at a time. She has not been able to walk down stairs before in past five years, except by stepping down on each step with one foot at a time. This is remarkable. Send five more boxes."

No matter what ails your feet or what under heaven you have used without getting relief, just use TIZ. It's different. It acts right off. It cures sore feet to stay cured. It's the only foot remedy ever made which acts on the principle of drawing out all the poisonous exudations which cause sore feet. Powders and other remedies merely clog up the pores. TIZ cleans them out and keeps them clean. You will feel better the first time it's used. Use it a week and you can forget you ever had sore feet. Nothing on earth can compare with it. TIZ is for sale at all druggists, 25c per box, or direct, if you wish, from Walter Luther Dodge & Co., Chicago, Ill.

32 INCHES OF RAIN FALLS IN 24 HOURS

Seven Feet Is 3-Day Record of Remarkable Downpour in the Philippines.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 23.—From Father Algue's weather observatory at Manila comes a record of the greatest rainfall in the history of meteorology, a storm which overwhelmed Western Luzon and especially Baglo, last July. Father Jose Coronas, the assistant director of the Manila observatory, has issued a special bulletin to forestall the great mass of correspondence with meteorologists, who otherwise would follow the reading of the news of the remarkable occurrence. There were three typhoons between July 1 and August 1, an unprecedented event, but the greatest of the storms was one that raged from July 11 to 17. The figures show that in the first three days of this period, the rainfall reached a total of over 38 inches, while in the first 24 hours 32 inches of water fell. The acting director says:

We do not know of any instance in which similar torrential rain have been registered in any part of the globe."

With this explanation at hand, the officials of the Insular Bureau now understand the almost total destruction of the magnificent military road in Baglo.

MAYOR HEYER OF HAYWARD BANQUETED PRESENTED WITH GOLD WATCH AND FOB

MAYOR CHARLES HEYER of Hayward, who was presented with a gold watch and banqueted by his friends.

HAYWARD, Nov. 23.—The banquet tendered Mayor Charles Heyer by members of the board of town trustees and prominent men of the county Tuesday night, at the Villa Hotel, was the first of its kind held in Hayward. While the affair was in honor of the chief executive, who was presented with a gold watch and fob by his friends and admirers, its aim was to start a more social "get-together" spirit among the men of Hayward, representing its varied resources and interests. It is planned by those responsible for the banquet, which was kept a secret from Mayor Heyer until within a few hours of its scheduled time, to hold frequent gatherings of this nature, at each one of which some prominent citizen will be the guest of honor. The surprise upon Mayor Heyer was planned and brought to its consummation by Trustee F. J. Hoffing, who is also responsible for having suggested the idea of making such gatherings more frequent than in the past and giving them a definite aim, namely, to bring together the "boosters" of the section under genial and social circumstances.

AT FESTIVE BOARD.
Dr. F. W. Browning acted as toastmaster and was seated at the head of the banquet table, which was arranged in "U" shape. Mayor Heyer was seated on the "master's" right, with Attorney P. J. Crosby on his left. The latter was the principal speaker of the evening.

In a few words by State Senator E. K. Strobbridge the necessity for co-operation between municipalities and the state government was clearly shown. "It is the duty of a municipality to work hand-in-hand with the policy of the Governor of the state, that the best results may be assured for the people at large," said the speaker.

The Chief Riggs took for his subject the improved fire protection which has been assured the city by the recent carrying of bonds for the installation of a modern fire-alarm system and fire-lighting apparatus. His remarks were enthusiastically received, especially when he mentioned the probable lowering of the insurance rates, as a consequence of the progressive policy of the municipal board. Riggs gave it as his opinion that little difficulty would be found in disposing of the bonds, Hayward's credit being good.

ADVOCATE PUBLICITY.
The work of widely advertising the resources, both industrial and agricultural, of this section was referred to by William Angus, president of the Hayward chamber of commerce, and H. E. Brunner, a prominent member of the same body. Both speakers, discoursed on the publicity campaign now being carried on by the chamber, referring to the large amount of "educational literature" being circulated in every part of the country, including the eastern states.

Other speakers were John E. Geary, Judge Charles Prowse, W. P. Zambresky, W. T. Knightly, assistant cashier of the bank of Hayward; Attorney P. I. Lemos, S. C. Smith, R. H. Goodwin, city engineer; Trustee Hoffing; Manter, Welsh and Simons, and Victor Lagavere.

About forty persons were seated at the festive board, the affair lasting until late into the night.

THE PRESENTATION.
At the close of the address Attorney P. J. Crosby presented Mayor Heyer with the gold watch and fob, bearing upon the engravings the order of Elks. The chief executive then responded in a fitting manner, dwelling upon the pleasure it gave him to see the esteem in which he was held by the men of probity present at the table. He touched upon the honor of being at the head of the board of town trustees, saying that he hoped that the same spirit of co-operation which had been shown in the past between its members would continue, thus assuring the progress and welfare of the community.

CRABBY SAID.
"It seems to be almost a universal rule that a man who takes a leading part in matters of public concern, who serves the public in some official capacity, the man who holds opinions upon public questions and has the courage to express them, who believes in progress, and who does things becomes the object of attack from every quarter, attacks borne of envy or malice, and designed to discourage and dishearten and even to ruin him, but to this rule we have in our mayor, Mr. Heyer, an exception."

SPEAKS VOLUMES.
"It indeed speaks volumes for one who has dwelt for any considerable time in any community and has been tried in the crucible of public service to be able to greet as a friend, practically every one with whom he comes in contact from day to day."

"Such an individual, therefore, must possess some peculiar qualities, some special attributes which gain and hold for him the good will and esteem of his neighbors, notwithstanding any influences which would seem to work to the contrary. Among the special characteristics of the gentleman to whom I refer are:

"First. A happy and cheerful disposition, which we observe in him at all times, whether elated with success or victory, or depressed by reverse and defeat; whether in his business or his social relations; whether in public discussion or private conversation.

"Second. We note in him that he has only words of kindness and praise for his fellow-men. If he cannot, by his testimony, help one, he would rather remain silent, and under no circumstances would he intentionally, by word or deed, subject another to pain or distress.

A KINDLY MAN.
"Thirdly. He possesses a kindly, sympathetic and charitable nature. One seldom meets a man whose heart is more readily touched by a tale of poverty or distress, or whose purse is more readily opened in aid of the poor and needy. We are particularly impressed by these qualities in him, for in these days of rabid commercialism men are usually prone to place the value of a dollar above that of a human soul, and the desire for great wealth seems to turn the minds of men away from all Christian duty, and to destroy in them all idea of the ordinary obligations they owe to one another.

"Fourthly. He is, in his business relations and dealings recognized for his honesty and uprightness, and in these matters he is liberal, even to a fault.

"We note him carrying into his official life these same characteristics, together with a dignity which commands respect and fairness and gains good will and inspires confidence. Mr. Heyer is every ready, without reward or honor or gratitude yet, after his testimony, help one, he would rather remain silent, and under no circumstances would he intentionally, by word or deed, subject another to pain or distress.

HONOR THE LIVING.
"How often it is that a man possessing such qualities and attributes never lives to hear from the lips of his fellow-men any expression of commendation or gratitude yet, after his testimony, how the flags are furled in his honor, how all business is suspended out of respect to a worthy citizen, and how his every acquaintance relates the good he has done, the kind acts he has performed and the numerous commendable qualities which were his.

"As we think about these things, how vain and impotent they seem, these tardy testimonials, either as an inspiration to the living, or as a tribute to the dead.

"Any man who has made an effort to accomplish something which may prove a benefit to his contemporaries, or a blessing to his community has justified his existence, but one who passes through this life without making such an effort has lived in vain.

"I feel that if a man has gained a place in the hearts of his fellow-men they should make it known to him while yet he is able to receive this knowledge as a part compensation for the good he has already done, and while yet he is capable, inspired by such commendation, of still greater achievements which may add to the sum of human happiness.

EPITOME OF CHARACTER.
"Mr. Heyer, in the judgment of your fellow citizen, you possess the qualities, the attributes and characteristics I have mentioned to a remarkable degree. You have here spent your boyhood days and you have here grown into manhood; here you have pursued your vocation with success; here you have given your time to the public; here you have striven for progress and advancement and have aided materially in carrying forward projects which mean much for the community; and today many a person could testify to your acts of friendship and of charity which have long since faded from your memory; and now while life still holds the same charm and promise for you that it holds for us; while still you walk with us, talk with us, work with us. In short, while yet you live, we who surround you here tonight, a few of the many whose friendship and esteem you have won through your buoyancy of spirit and kindly disposition, your progressive ideas and your gratuitous service to the public.

CUTS ALLOWANCE OF AGED WOMAN

Margaret L. Rentschler Only Allowed $5 From Each Child.

Margaret L. Rentschler, aged mother of Thomas B. Sutliff, the Oakland tobacco dealer, and Jennie Cochran of Fresno, is entitled to $5 a month from each of the latter for her maintenance and support, according to a decision handed down this forenoon in the Superior Court by Judge N. A. Hawkins of Yolo county, who recently heard Mrs. Rentschler's suit to compel each of the children to pay $25 for her support. Judge Hawkins holds that neither Sutliff nor Mrs. Cochran are financially able to contribute more money for the care of their mother, and would they be in duty bound to do so were they able.

With reference to Mrs. Rentschler's attitude as a mother towards Sutliff and Mrs. Cochran, Judge Hawkins says that the testimony in the case brings out the fact that the maternal parent has never been a mother to either. For 40 years, by reason of willful fault and neglect, the opinion recites, Mrs. Rentschler never saw either Sutliff or Mrs. Cochran. At the age of 4 Sutliff was taken from the custody and care of his mother and turned over to a legally appointed guardian, by reason of his mother's alleged cruel and inhuman treatment of him, and was therefore deprived the greater part of his life of the care, solicitude and affection of a mother. Furthermore, during the 40 years of motherless life Sutliff received nothing from his mother that tended in any degree toward his physical, comfort or physical, mental or moral welfare, according to the opinion.

In the case of Mrs. Cochran the court says that Mrs. Rentschler did not see her these friends here and now sincerely express to you their appreciation of the good you have thus far accomplished, with a firm belief that you will strive with them to attain as nearly as possible to perfection in your city's government ever mindful of the fact that the nation itself depends for its perpetuity and stability upon the moral stamina, the civic pride and the wholesome and righteous social relation of its people.

"As a token of their sincere friendship, good will and esteem, and as a mark of due appreciation of your true worth, and of the good you are capable yet of doing, it is my honor and pleasure, in their behalf to tender to you this watch and chain. As the years go by, each time you look upon its dial may you think upon the face of a friend, and may each link in the chain ever remind you of some commendable quality which your friends have observed in you, and which binds you to your fellow men of an enduring bond of friendship."

60 LOSE LIVES IN TRAIN WRECK

French Express Topples With Weakened Bridge Into Swollen River.

SAMUR, France, Nov. 23.—Sixty passengers, it is estimated, lost their lives through the plunging of an express train into the river Thouet today owing to the breakdown of a bridge on the state railway at Mont-rout-Boley, in the department of the Maine-et-Loire. The train, which had started from Angers, was traveling to Poitiers. It contained about 100 passengers. While it was crossing the bridge over the Thouet, the structure, weakened by recent floods, broke, carrying the train into the swollen stream.

Many of the passengers who got out of the cars through the windows tried to save themselves by clinging to the tops of trees which showed above the water. In most cases they were washed away.

All boats in the vicinity were carried off by the inundations and it was impossible for the people of the neighborhood to assist much in the work of rescue.

20 BODIES RECOVERED.

Twenty bodies have been recovered. Three of the cars were submerged but the roof of a fourth is above water. Eleven persons, including several children, clung to this and thousands of spectators lined the river banks, impotent to render aid.

Several small boats made ineffectual attempts at rescue, but were nearly swamped. A merchant who tried to row out to save a child was drowned.

As the exact number of passengers in the submerged cars is unknown it is impossible officially to estimate the total number of dead. Soldiers, engineers and firemen have been hurried to the scene to aid in the rescue work.

WEARY OF BRIGHT LIGHTS PRETTY GIRL SHOTS SELF

Ruth Jackson Finds Big City Has Sorrows and Tries to End Existence in San Francisco Hotel

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 23.—What may prove the last chapter in the life of a little country girl who came to the city, enthralled by its lights, was written shortly after 7 o'clock last night, when employees of the Argonaut Hotel, startled by the reports of a discharged revolver, broke into a room on the fourth floor and discovered Ruth Jackson, young and attractive, unconscious on the floor, with two bullet wounds in her breast. Beside her lay a 22-caliber revolver. In her arms they found tightly clasped the picture of a smiling baby, and on a pad of paper on the table was scrawled the simple invocation: "May God forgive me."

A letter, uncompleted, apparently written to a friend in Bakersfield, whence she came but a short time ago, mutely told the rest of her story. "I have walked the streets for two weeks in search of work, but my quest has been fruitless," she wrote. "Since baby died I feel worse than ever. He was such a comfort to me, even though I had to work very hard to keep him and myself. Often, now, I wish that I had stayed in Bakersfield. I have thrown my life away in this dreadful town, and my advice to you is to stay where you are and work." But a comparatively short time ago she came to San Francisco for a brief visit. She returned home with visions of a new world—a world of bright lights and music, one wherein sorrow was unknown and only happiness reigned. The spell that grasped her in her flying visit held her securely: the country was bleak and bare in comparison. So she gathered her belongings from home and came back. Gradually then she was disillusioned. She found that people in the city must work, too, she said; she discovered that sorrow was known and not infrequently reigned. In her struggles for a livelihood, she said, she was led from the beaten path and became more familiar with the glare of the white lights. She moved from her richer apartments to one more in keeping with the strength of her purse. Then, she said, she began her real struggle. She tried to find work. She visited every employment agency in the city, she said. She visited the stores, the offices and searched the want ads of the daily papers. Disheartened, she went to the Argonaut Hotel and shot herself. She will probably die.

LABOR CHIEFS TO BE TRIED AGAIN

Contempt Charge Against John Mitchell and Associates Holds.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 23.—Samuel Gompers, John Mitchell and Frank Morrison, the labor leaders, must again stand trial in the Supreme Court of the District of Columbia on charges of contempt arising from the Buck Stove and Range case. Justice Wright handed down a decision today overruling the motion of the labor leaders for a dismissal of the proceedings under the statute of limitations. The court held that contempt of court is not classed as criminal and consequently not subject to the bar of the statute of limitations.

The Supreme Court of the United States recently dismissed the original cases against Messrs. Gompers, Mitchell and Morrison, but gave the lower court the right to renew the proceedings. At this time the controversy between the stove company and the American Federation of Labor had been settled.

Justice Wright took the ground that the dignity of the district supreme court's orders had been violated and again cited the labor leaders to appear and defend themselves.

In addition to overruling the plea for abandonment under the statute of limitations, Justice Wright dismissed the motion which charged the court with unreasonable delay in making the charges of alleged contempt. He held that the motion was without merit. Justice Wright also declined to grant the request of Gompers and his associates that the testimony be taken in open court.

He gave the respondents three days in which to agree with the committee of prosecutors on the appointment of a commission to hear evidence.

'BARON' WM. KNAPP DENIES CHARGES

"Baron" William Knapp of Fruitvale has so far recovered from his recent attack of recurrent rheumatism that he was able to appear again this forenoon at the trial of the suit for a divorce brought by Rosa Knapp, on the ground of extreme cruelty. His illness interrupted the hearing of the case by Superior Judge Harris about ten days ago, although Knapp's physical condition is feeble, he was able to testify in his own behalf. He was on the witness stand most of the day.

Knapp denied to the court practically all of Mrs. Knapp's charges of brutality, the object of his defense not being to prevent his wife from getting a divorce, but to protect financial and property interests. He declared that with one or two exceptions, when Mrs. Knapp attacked him into slapping her face, he never laid violent hands upon her. On the other hand, Knapp declared, Mrs. Knapp attacked him on numerous occasions and all he did was to catch her by the wrists to prevent her from mauling him.

Knapp lugged into the case H. Brinkman, a boarder at his house when the "baron" and his wife were living together at 3104 Champion street, naming him as the author of Mrs. Knapp. The defendant declared that Mrs. Knapp and Brinkman were so "thick" that they ran the house to the exclusion of any authority he might assert as its head, doing as they pleased and by their conduct driving Mrs. Knapp's social friends away from the house. Mrs. Knapp took Mrs. Brinkman one by one frequently at night, the "baron" testified.

The climax of a long series of discord between Knapp and his wife was reached on the night of May 24 of this year, according to the defendant, when, during a row, Brinkman took the neighbors to help Knapp and called the students to the house. He kicked Brinkman into the street and was afterwards arrested on a battery warrant sworn out by Brinkman. However, he also admitted the important fact that until after the separation between Mrs. Knapp and him, he never suspected any intimacy between Mrs. Knapp and Brinkman.

Five victims of the Key Route accident of last Monday night are still at the Merritt Hospital, though it is expected that two of them, Charles Grimes of San Francisco and Miss May White of 1970 Grove street, will probably leave tomorrow, as they were the least injured. The others, Motorman Sharp, Benjamin F. Wright, a retired capitalist, and Miss Leah White, are reported as resting easily. Unless complications set in, Sharp will probably recover, although his injuries of themselves are of a serious nature.

BODIES EXHUMED IN STORM; FOUND OUT AT SEA

Steamer Corwin Runs Into the Corpses of Men Buried Years Ago.

After discharging a small cargo of freight consisting of beer, flour, etc., the Alaska Pacific Steamship company's big liner Watson, Captain Bartlett left Long wharf for Vallejo where the big vessel will leave a cargo of 1300 tons of grain. The vessel comes from Seattle and reports a favorable passage. Besides her cargo of freight the Watson had on a large number of passengers who during the run amused themselves in the usual manner of tourists by holding concerts, dances and socials, which somewhat relieved the monotony of the trip.

Coming with the vessel is a somewhat ghastly story told by one of the crew who was present when the incident occurred. The steamer Corwin, Captain Fred Warner, plying between Nome and Seattle, while a few miles off the port of Nome sighted some bodies floating in the water near Sealine Island. The day before a heavy storm had been creating quite a flurry among the fishers and it was reported that a number, who had gone out and failed to return.

BURIED YEARS AGO.
It was thought at first that these were the bodies of some unfortunate sailors, but it was later found that the bodies were those of a number of sailors who had been down on a whaler off the beach of Sealine Island. The storm two days before had kicked up such a heavy surf that the bodies had been washed out of their burial place. The bodies were found in a perfect state of preservation and when found by the Corwin, were perfect. The bodies were buried higher up on the beach than the one which was wrecked vessel up to mark their resting place.

Carrying a capacity cargo of frozen salmon, the Alaska Pacific Steamship's refrigerator packet Metha Nelson came in late yesterday afternoon and laid on the beach of Sealine Island. The vessel was carrying her cargo. It will be somewhat of a novelty among the persons about the bay to have salmon on the beach which is as fresh as if taken from the nets today.

PASSAGE IS ROUGH.
Captain Jacobsen is in command of the little packet and reports an unusual rough passage from the north. The vessel has been fishing off Kodiak, Alaska, during the past season and succeeded in making a good catch. The crew consisted of captain and crew the trip was the roughest made by the packet. Considerable uneasiness was felt for the safety of the ship at one point when the vessel was caught in a heavy snow falling and high sea running made it doubtful whether the vessel would be able to make shore. The vessel rode the sea well and came out unscathed. The Nelson will be laid up in the mud off the company's Alameda wharves because of the rough passage.

The scow schooner Columbus is at the Hogan Lumber company's wharf, discharging 25,000 feet of lumber. The little schooner comes from San Francisco.

The gas tug Uncle Sam came into port yesterday with the scow schooner Marquette. The tug was carrying two boats. Both schooners were laid off Park street.

GAS TUG DOCKS.
The gas tug Jim Wilder towed in the scow schooner Ruby and Horace Templeton and laid the lumber on the beach. The steam schooner Casco, Captain Jacobsen, arrived this morning from Columbia river and is discharging 100,000 feet of lumber. Captain Jacobsen reports a fine passage.

George A. Baker has relieved Louis Fieldon as master of barkentine Fuller-ton.

The steamer Maverick, Captain John McCallister, was enrolled at San Francisco yesterday.

After discharging lumber at the E. K. Wood Lumber company's wharf, the steam schooner, Redondo, Captain Maguire left the harbor, for San Francisco this morning.

NEW AMENDMENT MAY AFFECT M'NAMARA CASE

Granting of New Trial to Be Delayed if Power of Law Is Great as Scheduled; Defense Expects to Ignore It

LOS ANGELES, Nov. 23.—With one juror absent because of critical illness in the family and another juror back from visiting his sick wife the McNamara murder trial dragged ahead today in an attempt to get two more men needed to fill the jury box before the peremptory challenges.

Counsel for James E. McNamara, on trial for murder of Charles J. Healey, one of the twenty-one victims of the Los Angeles Times explosion and fire, conferred with their client at length before court opened as to the men who should be peremptorily excused, and it is believed that the five men passed for cause will be let go.

G. S. Bisbee, a rancher, was accepted quickly by both sides and the examination held of J. H. Coke, indicating a likelihood that he also would be accepted, making the twelfth man.

During Coke's examination counsel for the defense held a conference regarding the use of the eleven peremptory challenges which are left out of the twenty-two to be used in the case. The state would use no challenges at all.

AMENDMENT'S EFFECT.
With frequent wrangles in the examination of jurors to try James E. McNamara for the fatalities resulting from the Times explosion and the noting of long exceptions by the defense to many rulings of the court, the trial today turned to the bar association meeting when the possible effect on the case of the new constitutional amendment, adopted last month regarding the granting of new trials, was taken up.

It became known today that members of the State Bar association at their meeting at Sacramento a week ago discussed informally the new amendment and a doubt existed as to its future interpretation.

Clarence S. Darrow, chief of the defense, learning of this, also gave his views today on the amendment and, although he is not worried about the phraseology of the amendment, he admitted that it might cause some trouble in case of a conviction of the McNamara and an application thereupon for a new trial.

FIRST OF KIND.
The amendment, though when passed it attracted little general attention, is said to be the first of its kind embodied in a state constitution in this country. Only the bar association meeting when the first gathering occurred of lawyers in the state since the amendment was adopted, was its true meaning canvassed. It reads:

"No judgment shall be set aside or a new trial granted in any criminal case on the ground of misdirection of the jury or the improper admission or rejection of evidence, or for error as to any matter of pleading or procedure, unless after an examination of the entire case, including the evidence, the court shall be of the opinion that the error complained of has resulted in a miscarriage of justice."

This amendment, in the minds of prominent lawyers, unquestionably opens the door to the possibility of obtaining a new trial where irrelevant errors or technicalities occur. It is held that the so-called doctrine of presumed prejudice which assumes that every error in the record is manifestly prejudicial, is hereby abolished. In nearly every instance heretofore a judgment no longer can live, for the new amendment stipulates that the error complained of must be shown to have directly affected the verdict of the jury.

DARROW NOT WORRYING.
"We are not worrying about that amendment," declared Attorney Darrow of the defense today. "Laymen and many lawyers, too, have an idea that a reviewing court grants new trials on technicalities. It is held that the so-called doctrine of presumed prejudice which assumes that every error in the record is manifestly prejudicial, is hereby abolished. In nearly every instance heretofore a judgment no longer can live, for the new amendment stipulates that the error complained of must be shown to have directly affected the verdict of the jury."

Those who are in doubt about the amendment are wondering how it ever can be shown just how an error in the examination of talesmen or jurors can be proved to have had the psychological effect of influencing the verdict itself.

EVERY DEFENDANT HAS A RIGHT TO A TRIAL BY FAIR AND IMPARTIAL JURORS, AND NO CONTINUING TO ASK EXCEPTION TO RULINGS WHEREVER THEY OCCURRED AND WOULD SET THE RECORD TO FORTIFY HIMSELF FOR APPEAL IN CASE IT WAS NEEDED. ASKED WHETHER HE DID NOT BELIEVE THE NEW AMENDMENT MADE THE EVIDENCE ITSELF MORE IMPORTANT THAN THE PROCEDURE OF EXAMINING JURORS AS FAR AS GROUND FOR APPEAL WAS CONCERNED, HE REPLIED:

"Every defendant has a right to a trial by fair and impartial jurors, and no continuing to ask exception to rulings wherever they occurred and would set the record to fortify himself for appeal in case it was needed. Asked whether he did not believe the new amendment made the evidence itself more important than the procedure of examining jurors as far as ground for appeal was concerned, he replied:

LOVETT WOULD BRING S. P. CLOSE TO PEOPLE

Chairman of Executive Committee Explains Recent Appointments of Individual Presidents

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 23.—Judge Robert S. Lovett, chairman of the executive committee of the Harriman lines, who arrived in San Francisco yesterday after an inspection of the company's property in Oakland, is spending today in executive conference with President William Spruille and Vice-Presidents D. McCormick and E. B. Calvin of the Southern Pacific Company.

President Lovett plans to leave San Francisco tonight for Los Angeles, where he will go over the company's lines in that city and vicinity.

The appointments of individual presidents for each company of the Harriman system, he explained, was to expedite business, and at the same time bring the railroads in closer touch with the people. This, he said, would have a tendency to convince the people that there is no quarrel between them and the railroads.

"The people are gradually awakening to this fact," he said. "They are beginning to realize that they have their money in railroads, and that they should therefore take as much interest in the development and prosperity of the railroads as they would in any other investment. They are vitally interested in the people entirely, and the organization of the Harriman systems was intended to expedite business, and by local management, bring the people and the officials closer together. Upon Harriman's shoulders rested a great responsibility—that of looking after all the lines of the system. It is a tremendous undertaking for one man, and no other man but Harriman could have shouldered it so well."

HANDLED AT HOME.
"With the reorganization, however, much of the business matters in which the people are vitally interested may be disposed of at home, obviating the delay incidental to cross-country correspondence. Under the former system the operating and traffic departments were directly independent of one another. The heads of each report to the Chicago officials and the Chicago officials to those in New York, all of this consuming much time. Now, however, the department heads of the roads report directly to this president and the matter, whatever it may be, is speedily disposed of."

"My object in coming out was to visit the new presidents. I wanted to call upon President Parrell in Oregon, President Spruille and President Mohr in Omaha. I also wanted to look after the Gray's Harbor and North Yakima extensions and go over the short cut from Portland to Spokane."

Judge Lovett then took occasion to deny the report that he is dissolving old agreements between the Southern and Union Pacific, Oregon Short Line and Oregon Railroad and Navigation Company, although a persistent rumor in railway circles attributes this as the object of his Western visit.

"We won that suit with the Government and the case is now on appeal in organized labor is opposed to violence and not in sympathy with efforts of the small socialist element to destroy organized society and lessen respect for the laws of the country."

$1,000,000 FUND.
Burns reiterated that a fund of more than $1,000,000 had been collected and pledged for the defense of the McNamaras.

"When I first made that statement," he said, "Gompers promptly announced that it was a lie. But he did not give any figure and he is in the public eye as the source of some of this large aggregation of money."

"He contented himself by saying that it was a lie, which only goes to show the character of the men who are attacking me. I tell you, they have the money and they have endeavored to buy our witnesses. They have offered some of the prosecution witnesses their own price and when these witnesses refused to accept the offer they have been threatened with death. We have actually found it necessary to hide some witnesses."

LOS ANGELES, Nov. 23.—"What William J. Burns said is in keeping with what he has said previously," said Attorney Clarence S. Darrow, chief counsel for James E. McNamara, referring to the address of William J. Burns at the American Bankers' Association in New Orleans.

"There is not a word of truth in it," Officials of the district attorney's office did not discuss the affair.

"There is no million dollar fund," added Darrow. "If Burns or any one else can find such a fund I'll give him $750,000 of it. But this is idle talk. It does not exist. There is no reason, however, why we should tell Mr. Burns just how much money we have. It is no legitimate concern of his."

Death Threats Said to Have Been Made

NEW ORLEANS, Nov. 23.—Witnesses for the prosecution in the Los Angeles Times dynamiting case have been threatened with death after having withstood repeated efforts of agents of the defense to bribe them, declared William J. Burns, the detective, in an address today before the State secretaries section of the American Bankers' Association.

Burns arraigned Samuel Gompers, president of the American Federation of Labor, Eugene W. Debs and other "would-be leaders" of organized labor, but declared that nine-tenths of or-is that they follow no regular plan or system; one week they deposit $5.00 in the Bank, the next week nothing at all, and it is a haphazard process. Soon the nothing-at-all weeks are in the majority, and little, if anything, is accomplished. This failure to carry out a deliberate purpose is a serious blow to the self-respect and discourages further attempts.

If you have not acquired the habit of saving, begin very moderately. Set your pace slow at first, but keep it up. "Keeping everlastingly at it brings success," is the slogan of a certain great advertising agency. Once you have the habit firmly fixed, you can quicken your pace, but to start off too fast is a fatal mistake.

Our booklet, "Money Saving Plans," tells how some people have succeeded in saving. Ask for a copy.

BUSINESS MEN TO HOLD MEETING

Preparations for the opening of the Panama canal and the business which is expected to follow it will be the subjects discussed at the sixteenth semi-annual meeting of the counties committee of the California Development Board to be held in Los Angeles on January 12 and 13, 1912. The local Chamber of Commerce has been asked to send five delegates to this conference, which will attract representatives from commercial bodies from over the entire state.

The advance announcements of the conference give the theme of the meeting as "Get Ready" with three matters to be discussed, namely:

"California's Preparation for the Canal," "California's Preparation for the Immigration," and "California's Preparation for the Exposition."

James N. Gillett, president of the Development Board, will preside at the meeting and among the speakers will be C. C. Moore, president of the Panama-Pacific Exposition Company. A special train will be run to Los Angeles from the sections about San Francisco bay.

'THE REAL MR. Q.' VERY DIVERTING

The entertainment given by the seniors and juniors of St. Mary's college last night was a notable success. "The Real Mr. Q." was presented by Leo J. Murasky, Benjamin Greeley and Richard Curtis. "Byron, Poet and Man" was the subject of an address made by Raymond F. A. McPhee, which was followed by several musical numbers under the direction of Professor Schoorch of the college faculty. Raymond Miller gave a clever exhibition of sleight-of-hand tricks, assisted by Thomas J. Horan. Others contributing to the program were Charles M. Wabbe, Gerald J. Brushner, Louis F. Lefevre and Bartolomew J. Hardimann.

Brother Fabrician, the president of the college, at the request of the senior classes, made a brief address to the student body, in which he praised the energy displayed by the seniors and juniors, and expressed appreciation of the student spirit invariably manifested by the students when classes gave public entertainments.

YOUTH IS SHOT BY COMPANION

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 23.—Ralph Andrews, a youth of Big Pine, Inyo county, lies at the Mount Zion Hospital on the point of death, blinded for life should he recover. To account for his affliction and the grief of the sorrowing mother, who sits at his bedside, is a story of unbelievable brutality.

In id moments the boy has told that he and Stephen Martin, a rancher of Inyo county, went hunting ducks last Friday near Big Pine. As they were going through the brush, Martin in the lead, Andrews' gun trigger caught on a limb and was discharged, the shot lodging in Martin's left leg. It was a painful but not serious wound.

The boy dropped his gun, he says, and rushed to help his companion, but the man, turning deliberately, took aim and fired a charge of buckshot into Andrews' face. The boy pleaded with him to stop and put his hands before him to protect his eyes. But Martin dropped to one knee, and again aiming carefully, sent the second charge of his gun into the back of Andrews' head.

"After that I could not see," says Andrews. "I begged him to take me back to the house, but for hours he refused. Then he led me back to the ranch." As soon as possible the boy's mother, Mrs. V. Andrews, hurried him to a hospital in San Francisco.

At Big Pine, according to word received by Mrs. Andrews, a charge of assault to commit murder will be filed against Martin, to await a more serious charge in case the boy dies. The only comment the man has to make is:

"The kid shot me and I turned round and shot him twice."

Miss Lucille Andrews, who is secretary of the local chapter of the B. P. O. E. lodge, has been asked to have her brother taken to Mount Zion Hospital as soon as she was advised by the doctors that he would be brought here. The doctors hold out little hope of his recovery, as his head and shoulders are penetrated by the fine shot fired at close range.

SOUTHERN FIRMS IN PURE FOOD NET

SACRAMENTO, Nov. 23.—Four Los Angeles firms, two at Oroville, two at Red Bluff and one at Corona constitute the list of pure food and drug violators the State board of health today referred to the district attorneys of the counties in which the firms are established, for prosecution under the State pure food and drug laws.

The preliminary hearings were held some time ago before the State board of health in this city. Here are the firms and the alleged recommendations which have been reported with recommendations the counties should be instituted:

F. W. Murray, mislabeled Green's August Flower, contained ethyl alcohol, not declared on label, Corona.

Red Bluff Drug Store, mislabeled Dr. Gill's cough syrup, contains morphine and chloroform, not declared on label, and also the same firm mislabeled Wakefield cough syrup, contains alcohol and morphine, not declared on label.

Simon Levi company, selling eggs labeled as "fresh" when they were actually "not fresh," Los Angeles.

Newberry's, labeled state eggs as "ranch eggs," Los Angeles.

Stoddard & Burrell, eggs, labeled fresh, when they were stale, Los Angeles.

Brunswick Drug company, mislabeled Jaqueline, contains acanidol, not declared on label.

R. M. Green, mislabeled Ballard's Horchound syrup, contains alcohol, morphine and chloroform not declared on label.

BEAR BRINGS SEAL PUPS.
SEATTLE, Nov. 23.—The revenue cutter Bear, the last of the Bering sea patrol ships, arrived at Fort Townsend from Unalaska yesterday, and will come to Seattle with ten seal pups which will be taken to Washington with a view to learning the life history of this species.

Increase in Oakland Property Values.

What real estate sells for in the open market is the real measure of its value. Judged by this standard property in Oakland is valuable indeed. Moreover, it is increasing in value at a rapid rate. Twenty-two years ago Abrahamson Brothers paid $740 a front foot for the lot on the corner of Thirteenth and Washington streets. Today that property is worth approximately $4000 a front foot—probably it could not be bought for that figure. Eighteen years ago Kahn Brothers paid $1000 a front foot for the property at the corner of Washington and Twelfth streets. That lot has just been sold for $3750 a front foot.

Recent sales establish a high valuation in different parts of the business district. On Broadway, between Twelfth and Thirteenth streets, the valuation has been fixed by actual sale price at $5100 a front foot. On Washington street the valuation is $3750 a front foot; on Broadway at the junction of Telegraph avenue it is $2500 a foot; on Broadway, near Seventeenth, $1700 a foot, and on Fourteenth, near Jefferson, it is $1400 a front foot. That property advanced from $925 to $1400 a front foot in a year.

The corner at Fourteenth and Clay streets, occupied by the First Methodist Church, sold for $3000 a front foot and not long ago the First Presbyterian Church property, corner of Fourteenth and Franklin streets, sold for $2000 a front foot. A sale of property at Twelfth and Harrison streets at corresponding figures shows how widely distributed and steady is the market value of real estate in this city.

Large blocks of property in the heart of the business district are not for sale at any price. They command such high rentals that the owners have no wish to part with them. The most of this property is under long term leases which fix even a higher valuation than the actual sales indicate. But property is worth what it will yield a good rate of interest on, and the rentals paid on Broadway, Washington, Twelfth, Thirteenth and Fourteenth streets prove the value of real estate in that section of the city.

As a result of the recent deals several new buildings will be erected and the business district enlarged. The two old wooden church buildings which have hitherto obstructed the march of progress will be succeeded by smart, modern business blocks. At the same time two imposing church edifices that will adorn the city will be erected just outside the business district. If the trustees of the First Congregational Church can be induced to sell the splendid property on Clay street, now occupied as a site for an ancient wooden church, a fine business block will be erected there. In that event a permanent church of brick or stone of artistic design would be built elsewhere. Thus church development and municipal adornment would go hand in hand with business extension.

But the point to which these remarks are mainly directed is the high level which property values have reached in Oakland and the rapidity with which values have advanced. A superficial investigation will disclose that the values are on a substantial and enduring basis. They are not at all speculative. Population growth, business expansion, transportation development and manufacturing progress are behind the advance in property values. They furnish the impulse that is pushing values up and promoting building activity. When the Hotel Oakland, the new city hall and the Sixteenth street station are completed, Oakland will put on a different aspect architecturally and begin to give visible evidence of her coming greatness.

Registrar for This County.

Alameda county is steadily forging to the front rank and is now placed in the first column of the top-notch counties on the coast.

It does not depend on tourists for its good times or its progress. This county depends on the production from its soil for its greatness and its prosperity.

It is steadily increasing in population and it will not be long before it will challenge the best of them for supremacy in this line. As a result of this splendid increase in population Alameda county should come into its own and have a county registrar. Let the boosters take up this matter and place us among the Class A counties with a registrar.

A Reform That Does Not Reform.

Everything that is called progress is not progress. Beneficial changes are always desirable, but change for the sake of change is never desirable. Unless it can be shown to be for the better it should not be undertaken. Defects can be pointed out in everything of human origin, but it cannot be proved that a substitute for something already in use is superior by merely pointing out defects in the existing rule, appliance or device.

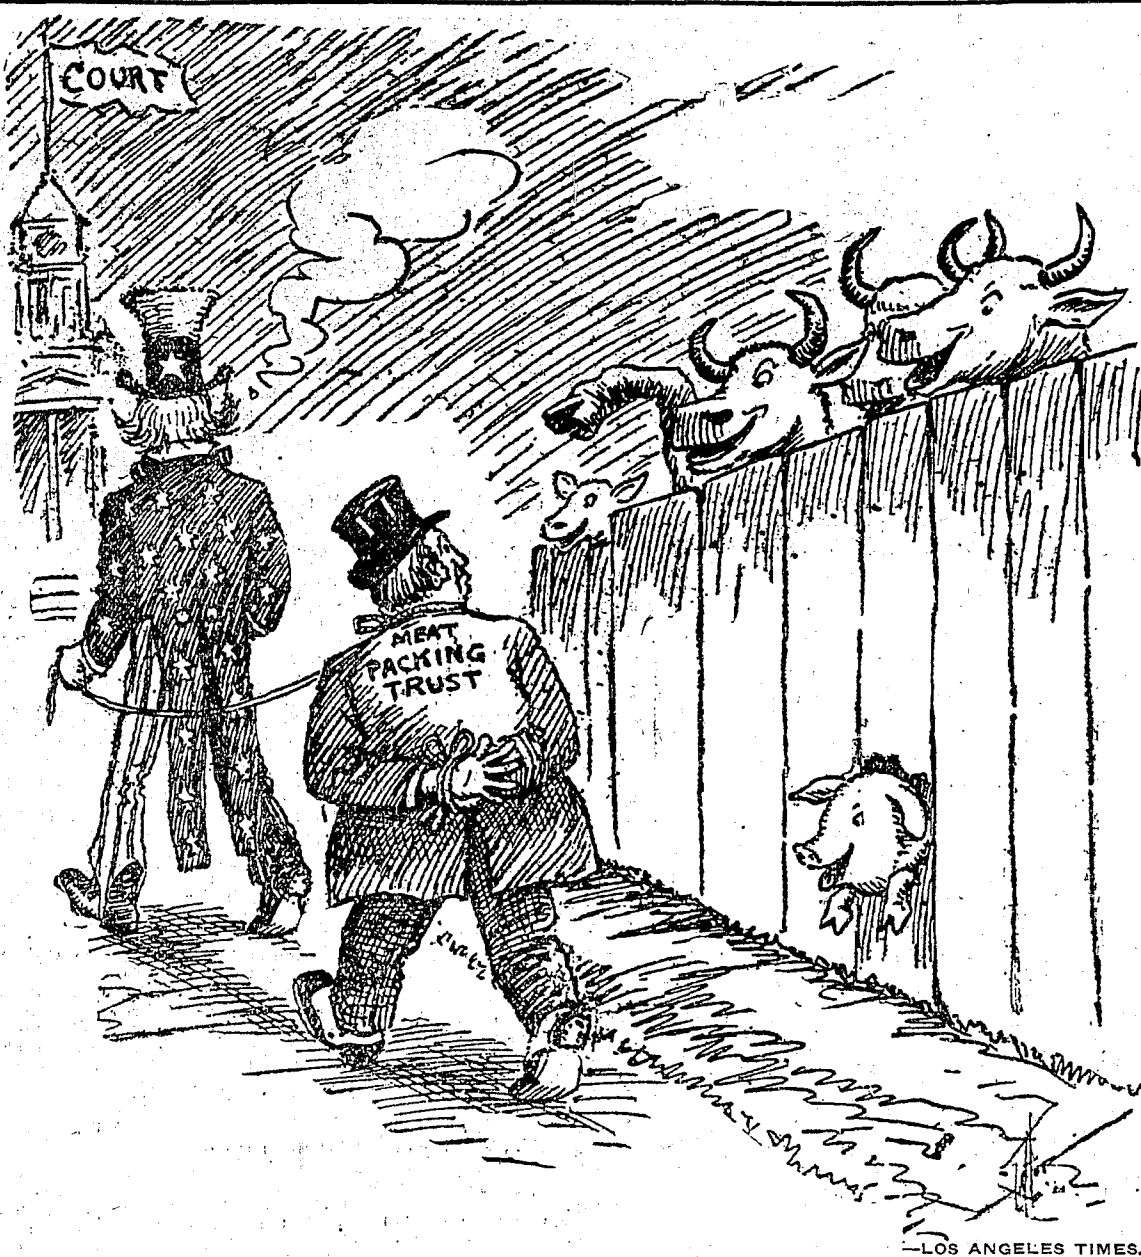

An example in point is furnished by the law enacted at the regular session of the Legislature last spring providing that chronic inebriates may be committed to the State hospitals for the insane. That law has worked so badly that Governor Johnson, in his extra-session call, has included a recommendation for the repeal or amendment of the statute, which has had the effect of enormously increasing the cost of maintaining the hospitals for the insane and nearly doubling the cost of transporting persons committed to the prisons and asylums. Relatives, friends and the police have taken advantage of the law, to throw upon the State the burden of supporting and reforming worthless whisky wrecks, who are sent to the hospitals to be sobered up at the expense of the taxpayers.

In every county in the State inebriate rounders and inebriates have been rounded up and committed to the hospitals. After a short stay in those institutions they are discharged, usually to return to their old habits of loafing and whisky guzzling. No substantial reforms are effected by turning the State hospitals into free Keely Cure establishments. The law is being used as a convenience by people entirely unworthy of consideration, with the result that the hospitals for the insane are overcrowded with an element that is only disordered in appetite and lacking in moral perception. The drunk contingent is eating up the appropriations made by the Legislature for the care and maintenance of the insane and creating a huge deficiency in the fund appropriated for the transport of persons committed to the State hospitals.

Although the law has been in force only a few months, a cry for relief has gone up from the State hospitals. The Board of Control is appalled at the increased cost of maintaining them, and the sheriffs are complaining because their bills for the transport of persons under commitment are unpaid. There is usually a deficiency in the fund, but under the new system the deficiency promises to be of stupendous proportions. All the State hospitals are threatened with similar deficits. Moreover, the influx of drunks is depriving insane patients of adequate accommodations at the hospitals.

The condition is so acute that Governor Johnson is im-with the necessity of providing some relief. Just what form the relief will take has not yet developed, but doubtless the Board of Control and officials of the State hospitals have some measure in view that will correct the abuse and reduce an unnecessary expense.

The esteemed Sacramento Bee says Chester H. Rowell has no sense of humor. Why is the Bee so unjust to a great and good man whose transcendent genius lights up the whole San Joaquin valley as a glow-worm floods a forest with radiance? Why, the editor of the Fresno Republican is a very rash of humor—an irresistible incentive to mirth. To see him is to laugh; to hear him discourse is to rejoice that the cares of this sad world are lightened by fun. Not humorous! How genius and goodness are maligned! Mr. Rowell was sent into the world to tickle mankind. "What a blessing is the itch!" exclaimed a philosopher. "It gives the poor the pleasure of scratching." Mr. Rowell has the itch beaten a mile.

Remit Canal Tolls on American Shipping.

Hon. Joseph R. Knowland, who represents this district in Congress, is in favor of remitting all tolls on American ships passing through the Panama canal. If this cannot be done without violating the treaties the United States has entered into with other nations, Mr. Knowland is in favor of providing a fund for the repayment of tolls charged against American ships. When Congress meets Mr. Knowland purposes to introduce a bill relieving American ships passing through the canal from the toll charge.

This is in accordance with the suggestion President Taft threw out when he was on his last visit to California. It is the expression of sound business policy. American money built the canal. Why should not American shipping derive the chief benefit? It is the universal wish of the American people to see once again the American flag floating over an American merchant marine. Mr. Knowland's proposition will help to restore American shipping to its old place on the ocean. It will put men to work in American shipyards and do something toward reviving the seafaring spirit of the American people.

But Mr. Knowland's proposition has a side that more immediately concerns the people of California. Remitting the canal tolls for American ships will have the effect of cheapening freights between Pacific and Atlantic ports. Foreign ships cannot ply in that trade. The remission of tolls will reduce transcontinental freights almost, if not quite, to the extent of the toll, for the toll will have to be added to the cost of carriage. If a ship charges $7.50 a ton, including $1.50 a ton canal toll, for carrying freight between San Francisco and New York, she can carry it for $6 a ton if no toll be charged. Thus the shippers of California will derive the chief benefit from the arrangement Mr. Knowland proposes. By helping put the American flag on the ocean the shippers and consumers will be benefited.

Of course foreign shipowners and the transcontinental railroads will object, but the canal was not built for their benefit or with their money. It was built by the American people with their own money, to benefit themselves and American commerce.

The London suffragettes, who are rioting and breaking windows, smashing furniture and defying the police, are doing this because they are women. They are taking advantage of the privileges and immunities accorded the female sex in civilized Christian lands. If they were men they would get their heads broken by the police and be given stiff terms at hard labor, but being women they feel confident that they will not be dealt with harshly. They assume that their sex makes them irresponsible. Apparently they do not perceive that political responsibility is not likely to be put upon persons who claim the immunity of irresponsibility. Their conduct cheapens the sex and degrades the standard of womanhood. A shrieking, hysterical woman doing all sorts of foolish, lawless and unwomanly things inspires disgust and aversion, not respect and consideration. She is an object of pity and compassion—because she is a woman—but is not to be regarded as gifted with good sense and discretion. She is giving all the evidence she can that she is unfitted for the duties of citizenship.

HIGHER STANDARDS OF LIVING

If I will do as my daddy did, get up in the morning, take my market basket and walk to the places where the same quality of food and vegetables as he bought are still handed, I will get them at the same price, but if I demand my steaks and chops brought to my door, handled from the day the animal was born in the most intelligent and scientific manner, fed and killed in up-to-date conditions, hauled to me in automobiles, wrapped in a wax paper and delivered by a boy in a clean, white apron, I have to pay for the labor involved.

Again, as a boy in the early eighties, working as a clerk for $5 per week in Philadelphia, I received 50 cents for supper money when we were required to work extra. Of course I hunted up a 35-cent place to eat, so that the other quarter would buy some amusement or other. Today, for 25 cents, I can get a better meal in New York restaurants of the same class, the latter being much cleaner. In short, it is not the cost of living that has gone up, but the standard of living. And all the howling we country boys brought up on a dollar-a-day standard may do is useless so long as we try to make our now ten-dollar-a-day income pay for fifteen-dollar-a-day style. I tried housekeeping in London in 1904. Rented a furnished house in the southeast section, New Cross. Kept the same woman who had worked for the regular occupants. We tried to live on our regular New York Harlem-flat standard. The woman opened her eyes, so did we, at the bills. Yes, living is cheaper in London, but only by the London-living standard. So it is in New York, if we stick to the Squidunk standard.

But the laboring man? A few years ago we had no such man in America. He doesn't exist today in certain parts of New York, Pennsylvania, Ohio, Indiana, Illinois or Texas—or any other state. We hear a lot about his suffering on the East Side. Go look where he came from. As a matter of fact, he doesn't know how to live any better than he does. He is living so much better than he did that he can hardly stand it. I, an American by eight or ten generations of residence here, went to school with boys and girls of the same class; patches on my pants and boots were common, also on those of the other boys. My boy goes with the children of fathers who do not yet wear a hat and mothers to whom a shawl is still enough, and yet I look in vain for the patches on their pants or copper on toes of their shoes.—American Magazine.

20 YEARS AGO IN OAKLAND

Charles Rollo Peters is going away from San Francisco. He says he feels lonesome since Emil Carlson left us.

On Tuesday evening George Kennan, the great Siberian traveler, will deliver his second lecture at the First Congregational Church, under the auspices of the Eboli society. His subject will be "An East Siberian Convict Mine."

A house-warming was given in the new residence of William Taynton on Essex street last night.

The comedy "Skipped by the Light of the Moon," will be at the Oakland Theater next Monday and Tuesday nights. The skit has been presented in Oakland before and made a hit. The piece is funny from beginning to end and will surely please.

Not very large but very enthusiastic was the audience at the Oakland Theater last night to witness the second round of the international tug-of-war. More exciting even than on Wednesday were the contests and the crowd, unable to control itself, got up and yelled as the battles were lost and won.

THEY GROW HAIR

Certain Ingredients if Properly Combined Stimulate the Human Hair Growth.

Resorcin is one of the most effective germ destroyers ever discovered. Beta-naphthol is a most powerful, yet absolutely safe germicide and antiseptic, which prevents development of germ matter and creates a clean, healthy condition.

Filocaprine, although not a coloring matter of dye, is an ingredient well established for its power to restore natural color to human hair.

Borax, because of its well-defined softening and cleansing properties, is most useful in the treatment of scalp and hair diseases. Glycerine acts as a stimulant to the hair bulbs, and has a soothing, healing and nourishing influence. Alcohol is indispensable in medicine because of its antiseptic, stimulating and preservative qualities.

Recall "93" Hair Tonic is chiefly composed of these ingredients, which are compounded in a peculiar form, and we believe it is the most effective remedy known to medical science for scalp and hair troubles generally. We personally guarantee it to eradicate dandruff and scalp irritations and to grow hair, even though the scalp in spots is bare of hair. Providing, of course, there is life and vitality remaining in the hair roots.

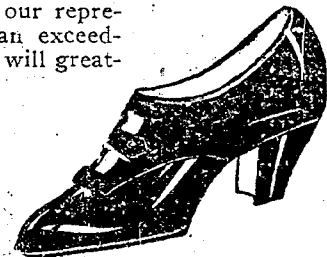

We want every one troubled with scalp disease, dandruff or loss of hair to try Recall "93" Hair Tonic. If it does not remove dandruff and promote a growth of hair to the satisfaction of the user, we will without question or quibble return every cent paid us for it. This guarantee is printed on every package. It has effected most satisfactory results in 93 out of 100 cases where put to a practical test.

Recall "93" Hair Tonic is entirely unlike and in every particular different from anything else we know of for the purpose for which it is recommended. We urge you to try it at our entire risk. Certainly we could offer no better guarantee. Two sizes, 50 cents and $1. The Owl Drug Co., Inc., Tenth and Washington, Thirteenth and Broadway, Sixteenth

WOMEN IN THE NEWS

WIFE OF SUICIDE TELLS PUBLIC OF ACT

Mrs. Kellogg Durland Gives Version of Deadly Quarrel On Train.

NEW YORK, Nov. 23.—Mrs. Kellogg Durland, widow of the young author who died in Boston last Sunday from cyanide of potassium, issued a statement last night saying: "Mr. Durland and I separated in October. I went to Boston. He knew I was there and followed me in the hope of a reconciliation. "His actions were so erratic that the police authorities on application of Boston physicians ordered his apprehension so that his sanity might be determined. "I refused to live with him. He threatened my life and also to commit suicide. I was frightened and moved to another hotel. "I finally decided to return to New York and secure a drawing-room on the train leaving Boston at midnight on November 18. I was in my state room when a friend who had escorted me to the train saw Mr. Durland pass the gate for the track. He immediately telephoned for the police. "Mr. Durland knocked at my door, entered and declared that we must do this. "I tried to reason with him. He promised to wait until the train started and have the steward bring him a can of soda water. "After what seemed an eternity to me the police entered the room. I faced Mr. Durland from the time he entered until the police arrived, but did not see him take any poison. That is what my lack for a moment to open the door. "Soon after the police entered Mr. Durland's breath began to rattle and he acted as if he were about to have convulsions. "A doctor sent Mr. Durland to the hospital. I followed. A few minutes after I arrived I was notified that Mr. Durland was dead."

Defends Suffragettes

NEW YORK, Nov. 23.—Mrs. Oliver H. Belmont received reporters yesterday and told them she thought the English suffragettes had displayed noble patience under many trials. "The treatment which has been meted out to these brave, self-sacrificing women," she said, "constitutes the blackest stain on the pages of English history. They have been betrayed by Asquith, who should be repudiated by the people he pretends to serve. Not only has he broken his pledge to the women, but in so doing he has acted against the cause of peace and the cause of the House of Commons. His conduct is dishonorable to the last degree, and he is undoubtedly the most arrogant despot in Europe. Why, the czar of Russia wouldn't dare to act as he has done."

Woman Is Victor

LEROY, Kas., Nov. 23.—Miss Esther E. Abbott was elected postmaster at Leroy by 554 votes to 71 for her opponent, O. C. Kenney. When women of all parties, patrons of the office, were permitted to vote, and Fred S. Jackson, representative from the Fourth district, who devised the plan for allowing the people to name their own postmaster, supervised the election. It is said the election is the first of the kind ever held.

Miss Abbott has been assistant postmaster nearly eight years under her father, and since his death, a few months ago, has been the acting postmaster. When the matter of appointing a new postmaster came up, so many persons applied for the place that Jackson decided on the primary.

Thought First Dead

STOCKTON, Nov. 23.—Mrs. Anna V. Fox, formerly Miss Anna V. Hildreth of this city, filed a complaint yesterday asking that her marriage to Max C. Fox, a bartender of San Francisco, be annulled. The woman, who is only 21 years of age, alleges that she married Fox in Sacramento last August, and that at the time she believed herself a widow, having heard that her former husband, J. L. Wall, who she married in 1906, and who, she says, deserted her four hours after the ceremony, was dead. Several days ago she found that Wall was alive. It seems that Mrs. Fox's second marriage was as disastrous as the first. She lived with Fox for two months, and then left him. She declares that just as soon as her marriage to Fox is annulled she expects to file divorce proceedings against Wall.

Girl to Testify

SALINAS, Nov. 23.—Full details of the quarrel that led to the accidental killing of Mrs. Rosie Ball Monday night by her 20-year-old daughter, Hazel Clapp, while the latter was attempting to shoot her stepfather, George Ball, to prevent him from making a drunken attack upon his wife, will be brought out at the coroner's inquest to be held at Pajaro. Miss Clapp, who has been in a critical condition at the county jail here since the night of the tragedy, has recovered her composure sufficiently to be able to testify, and will be the chief witness at the inquest.

Pension a Menace?

CHICAGO, Nov. 23.—The "socialism" of the new mothers' pension law will bankrupt Cook county, in the opinion of Joseph Meyer, county agent. Meyer said yesterday that there were 30,000 families in the county eligible under this law to receive pensions, and that these pensions, under a conservative estimate, will run from $3,000,000 to $5,000,000 a year. Many wives, not supported by their husbands, have heretofore caused their husbands' arrest, and obtained a court order for support. Under the new law, however, it is easier for a woman to make application for a pension, claiming that she has no support for the children. The city and county thus stands to support thousands of professional loafers.

Charges Slander

SACRAMENTO, Nov. 23.—Miss Eleanor E. Hoeft of this city has filed a suit in the Superior Court against John C. Nilon, accountant for several mining companies, for $15,000 for slander. A short time ago she sued August Greu for $10,000 on a similar charge in Michigan. Other such suits are expected to be filed. Miss Hoeft some time ago began an active investigation into the affairs of the Fairview Mining Company in this county, in which she is interested. She also represents many Calumet (Mich.) stockholders. It is charged that her activity in this matter led the officials of the mine to try to blacken her character and thus prevent the stockholders from delving into the company's affairs. The grand jury is expected to make an investigation into the company's next week and sensational developments are expected.

THIS COURSE OF TRUE LOVE, REAL

Los Angeles School Teaches Girls Details of Matrimonial Life.

LOS ANGELES, Nov. 23.—A course in matrimony is included in the curriculum at the Gardena agricultural high school. While partly hidden under the name of "household economics," five classes of girls daily receive advantage of instructions in the care of babies, mothercraft and domestic economy.

The girls are taught household management, home dietetics, keeping accounts, dressmaking, millinery, planning of menus and even such plebeian matters as how plumbers are supposed to do their work and shows in cash just how much plumbers should be paid.

It is planned that boys shall be permitted to take the course in matrimony next year.

TROOPS AT MANILA PREPARE FOR WAR

American Officers Begin Physical Tests Ordered by Authorities.

MANILA, Nov. 23.—The American officers stationed in the vicinity of Manila began today the physical tests which have been ordered by the military authorities. The test is to prepare them for a possible call for volunteers for service in China, for which purpose it is intended to raise the Fifteenth Infantry, arriving here on December 1, to war strength.

The hospital corps and the engineer corps are being fitted out with winter equipment. No information is given out officially, but it is admitted that the Fifteenth regiment is to be reinforced as a precautionary measure and that the troops will be ready to start for China two days after their arrival here.

BRIDAL PARTY TRAPPED BY FIRE IN FOREST

LOS ANGELES, Nov. 23.—Fredrick H. Rindge, one of the heirs to the late multimillionaire's estate, his bride and Dr. Frank Kidder and his bride, traveling in an automobile a few miles from the Malibu ranch, found themselves suddenly hemmed in by a hurricane of flames, smoke and sparks when they rounded a sharp turn and ran into the mountain fire that had been burning three days.

They could not turn the automobile nor back up the grade, and the heat soon became so intense that they had to abandon the machine. Almost suffocated, they made their way down the slope and waded into Santa Monica bay, where they remained thirty minutes shoulder deep, wetting their handkerchiefs to protect their heads from the heat. All were nearly asphyxiated when it became safe to go ashore.

FIRE DOES $25,000 DAMAGE.

DAVIS, Nov. 23.—Early yesterday fire in the warehouse district along the Southern Pacific tracks destroyed three warehouses, several freight cars and a large amount of hay and machinery. Loss, $25,000.

PROTEST PROPOSED UNION OF SCHOOLS

Improvers Over Consolidation Would Defeat Ends of Bond Issue.

Protesting that the proposed consolidation of the Oakland High School and the Manual Training and Commercial High School, the latter provided for in the recent bond issue, would be a departure from educational plans of the board of education and against the intentions of the majority of people who voted for the bond issue, a set of resolutions were adopted at a meeting of the federation of improvement clubs. They will be presented to the board of education and to Mayor Mott. The resolutions were signed by the following:

M. L. Shaw, Santa Fe Improvement Club; J. B. Leonard, Vernon-Rock Ridge Club; J. B. Moody, North Broadway Club; J. E. King, Central Oakland Club; T. E. Isidro, Piedmont Improvement Club, and C. H. Pearson of the First Ward Improvement Club.

Among the reasons given is that the two schools are distinct from one another in character of work and in the class of pupils who attend them, one giving preparation for a general literary course and the other for acquiring a knowledge of the arts and crafts; one a preparatory school for the university and the other for manual trades.

It is further pointed out that the site proposed, Lakeside Park, should be left intact as a beauty spot; that there is need of two schools rather than one large one for adequately caring for the different sections of the city.

The club members also declare that to unite the two large schools would be to discriminate against the Fremont High School. The matter will probably come before the board at its next regular meeting.

SAN JOSE CUPID BUSY BEFORE WORKING HOURS

SAN JOSE, Nov. 23.—Unable to locate any of the deputy county clerks last evening, William Davies, deputy county surveyor of Monterey county and a prominent resident of Salinas, early yesterday morning obtained a license to marry Miss Libbie Pierson of Salinas City.

Deputy County Clerk Martin found the young couple and two attendants on the courthouse steps impatiently waiting the opening of the license office at 8 o'clock.

No explanation was given of their haste, and no record of the ceremony having been performed in this city today could be obtained. The groom is 28 and the bride to be is 23.

AUTOIST'S VERACITY SAVES HIM FIVER

REDWOOD CITY, Nov. 23.—When R. O. Wilson, a wealthy San Francisco lumberman, admitted yesterday that he had been exceeding the speed limit and agreed with Motorcycle Policeman Martenstein that he had been driving his car 43 miles an hour, Justice of the Peace H. W. Lamplin commended the defendant for this truthfulness.

"Out of more than 200 persons that have appeared before me for violating the speed law, you are the first one to tell me the truth," said the court.

"In view of the fact that you admit your guilt I must fix a penalty, but as a reward for your veracity will reduce the regulation fine of $16 to $10."

KING'S CHAPLAIN IS DISMISSED FOR IMMORALITY

Dr. Frederick P. Farrar Ousted by Wireless From Monarch.

DRUNKENNESS ALSO ALLEGED BY ACCUSER

Son of Famous Divine Is Now Said to Be an Absconder.

LONDON, Nov. 23.—The announcement published in yesterday's London Gazette that King George had dismissed the Rev. Frederick Percival Farrar, his domestic chaplain and also honorary chaplain to Queen Alexandra, has been followed by the startling news that the clergyman had absconded and that the police, armed with a warrant for his arrest, were hunting him.

The disclosure has caused the most painful sensation in social and religious circles here. The action of his majesty is unprecedented in the annals of the royal court and was only taken after the full facts had been communicated to him by wireless on board the Medina which is carrying him to India for the winter.

SON OF FAMOUS DIVINE.

Son of a distinguished father, Dean Farrar of Westminster Abbey, who is known to the Christian world as the author of the "Life of Christ," and brother of the Right Rev. Walter Farrar, Bishop of Antigua and a distinguished theological author, the accused clergyman occupied an envied position in the religious world.

He was the incumbent of the rectory of Sandringham, the favorite residence of Queen Alexandra and King Edward, where the late king was wont to pass his brief respites from the cares of state. He was trusted friend and confidant of the late king and was in high favor with Queen Alexandra.

In fact, Dr. Farrar's elevation to a bishopric was considered to be only a matter of time.

The dramatic suddenness with which the grave charges have been brought against him and the late king's action and acted upon are perhaps the most extraordinary part of the scandal.

As recently as last Sunday the accused chaplain officiated at divine service in the presence of the queen mother, the Queen of Norway, the Prince of Wales and other members of the royal family.

LED A DOUBLE LIFE.

It is understood that some time Monday certain persons who had been brought into close contact with the disgraced minister, approached a member of the royal entourage and made statements to the effect that Dr. Farrar was a drunkard, immoral and the leading of a double life.

The Bishop of Norwich, in whose diocese the accused clergyman's parish of Sandringham is situated, began an investigation. It was then decided to communicate with King George by wireless. His majesty, after careful consideration, ordered the chaplain dismissed.

ARREST IS NOW SOUGHT.

Society hardly had recovered from the shock when today came the news that Dr. Farrar had absconded; that a warrant for his arrest had been issued, and that the fugitive was believed to be in Hong Kong.

One of the principal society events of last season was the marriage of Dr. Farrar and Miss Nora Davis, daughter of the late J. Clark Davis of Philadelphia, and the sister of Richard Harding Davis.

The ceremony took place in London and was witnessed by many Americans, including Ambassador Reid and John Hammond, King George, Queen Mary and the queen mother sent gifts to the bride and bridegroom.

BANK OFFICIAL'S TRIAL IS BEGUN

President Accused of Receiving Deposits When Institution Was Insolvent.

KALAMA, Wash., Nov. 23.—Hugh S. Phillips, formerly president of the defunct Commercial Bank of Vancouver, Wash., which failed in December, 1910, with liabilities approximating $400,000 and $13,000 in cash in its vaults, went to trial here today before Superior Judge H. E. McKenny, charged with receiving deposits when he knew the bank to be insolvent.

The trial of former cashier Gilbert W. Daniels, on similar charges, will follow.

Phillips trial was transferred to Cowitz county from Vancouver, Clark county, on change of venue, granted on the presumption that an impartial jury could not be secured there.

The collapse of the Commercial Bank was sensational and a number of Vancouver business houses were carried down with it. Experts who examined the institution reported that loans made by the bank were "wholly at variance with every known principle of banking."

They charged that 30 per cent of the deposits was in the hands of ten interests and that preferred creditors received payments after the bank was closed.

BOYS CONFESS MURDER OF FRESNO FARMER

FRESNO, Nov. 23.—Late last night two boys confessed to District Attorney Church and Sheriff McSwain that they shot and fatally wounded Andrew Alonzo, a Centerville farmer, Monday afternoon, while he and his wife were driving along a country road in the foothills twenty miles east of Fresno.

Alonzo was shot from ambush, and the boys, Raymond Trece and Kenneth Stevens, aged 10 and 12, confessed to having "taken a shot" at the farmer just to see if they could hit him. They admitted having killed several farm animals while out hunting.

'SIS' HOPKINS IS HERE, PROBABLY FOR LAST TIME

ROSE MELVILLE, as Sis Hopkins.

When Miss Rose Melville appears at the Madenough tonight for three days and Saturday matinees as Sis Hopkins, that delightfully quaint country girl in the play of the same name, which has been before the public for the past twelve years, it will be the last time that this clever and entertaining actress will be seen in this city.

When she completes her present season Miss Melville will retire from the stage permanently, and unless her manager, J. R. Stirling, can, prior to her retirement, secure an actress capable of portraying the complexities of the character of "Sis," the play will not again be seen on the stage.

Miss Melville has built up this queer country girl character until it has become the classic of the American stage. The oddity of the type, the exquisite simplicity, the homely philosophy and the great depth of affection which it shows, has made it at once one of the most complex and one of the most interesting and lovable characters before the public at the present time.

With all its scenes laid in Posey county, Indiana, its characters those which one would expect to see in a rural village—honest, home-loving and pious—"Sis Hopkins" is a play which is cleanly in story, deep in heart interest and rich in philosophy and humor. The characters are all drawn from the lives of people of the country; the story is logical and is wholly free of that modern element of problem in social structure and affection which abound in the latter day play of the comedy type.

RIFT IN LUTE OF LOVE IN A FLAT

Dame Rumor Says Divorce Is to Separate Mr. and Mrs. J. Brendan Brady.

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 23.—A romance that flourished and prospered for years in the face of parental opposition, but which finally succumbed to the blight of continued disfavor, is soon to receive its death blow in the filing of a divorce complaint in Sonoma county by beautiful Mrs. Ethel Miles Brady against J. Brendan Brady, according to the statement of mutual friends of the popular couple in this city.

For three months this summer Mrs. Brady remained at the country home of her parents near Cloverdale, and it is a matter of gossip among her friends that this sojourn was for the purpose of acquiring a legal residence in the neighboring county, as a preliminary to beginning divorce proceedings on the ground of desertion.

As the only daughter of Colonel and Mrs. D. E. Miles, Ethel Miles was a social favorite in San Francisco for several years before the fire, and the romance, which culminated in her marriage to J. Brendan Brady, after all plans had been completed for her wedding in California, was a well-known fact in the city.

J. Brendan Brady was a boyhood sweetheart of Ethel Miles, but his persistency as a youthful swain was frowned upon by Miss Miles' parents, who had plans for her future in which the lover of childhood days did not figure. When Brady went to New York city early in 1906 to begin his business career in the employ of a big manufacturing company Miss Ethel's parents are said to have signed with relief, and promptly set about to carry out their plans.

A new suitor for Miss Ethel's hand appeared, properly tagged with the stamp of parental approval, and laid desperate siege. This did not accord at all with Miss Ethel's desires, and while the new but unfavored aspirant was arranging with his tailor for an outfit of wedding apparel she informed Brady by telegraph of the situation and he rushed back to San Francisco, met his fiancée by appointment and they were quietly married before his return had been announced.

RUMORS OF TROUBLE.

Suddenly, without warning of any kind, whispers of serious trouble between the Bradys began to reach the ears of their friends, and then one day Mrs. Brady packed her things and went to live with her mother at the Stewart hotel. Then the whisper became current that Mrs. Brady's mother had never quite learned to forgive the man who had carried away her daughter five years before when she had mapped out other plans for the girl's future and that it was her attitude regarding this which caused the first rift in the happiness of the young people.

The Chef Who Won't Eat Hash--

The high-class merchant tailor imports the greater percentage of his fabrics, because of his policy to offer exclusive, novel patterns with few, if any, duplicates. He is able to bring over the very newest colorings and patterns within a few weeks after they appear in London. The clothing manufacturer who must not only make thousands of suits alike, but get his samples out six months before he delivers the finished product, can't possibly put newest effects on the market, because he must place big advance mill orders. That is why almost all retail clothiers and practically every manufacturer, himself, has his clothes made by the high-class merchant tailor. They know too much about their own goods. Like the hotel chef who never eats hash, they are extremely particular. Particular men will patronize the good merchant tailor as long as he is in business. And he can never be displaced by the clothing store until men of taste disappear from the communities.

WATER WAGONS POPULAR IN SEATTLE

180-Foot Break in Pipe Line Still Cuts Off Supply in Residence Section.

SEATTLE, Nov. 23.—This city's supply of water secured from the regular source, connection with which was broken off by Sunday's flood, was reduced today to 25,000,000 gallons, and the residence districts are still without service except by water wagons. Temporary pumping plants are forcing an estimated supply of 12,000,000 gallons daily from the lakes for imperative needs throughout the rest of the city, but the water is contaminated and only available for domestic uses after boiling. Because of this the city has opened a distillation plant, where purified water is sold under the eyes of the board of health.

It is believed that the 180-foot gap in the pipe line will be repaired by tomorrow night and the regular service restored.

Seattle physicians assert that the Lake Washington water now flowing in the city pipes contains typhoid germs, but that water that comes from Swann Lake which will be sent through today, is pure.

SEEK BLOODY FINGER PRINTS

Detectives Working Hard in Effort to Tighten Net Around Suspect.

bent on the discovery of some new clue, came upon the overalls, which were immediately sent to headquarters. They will be a strong link in the circumstantial evidence, should the men now arrested be actually charged with the crime.

ROGERS SWEATED

Rogers, who with Tony Sarmiento, employee of the commission house, are held at the city prison, were put through a sweating process by Detectives Conlon, Mackey and McLaughlin. Owing to the fact that the officers were forced to be in court on another case, it was noon before they reached the basement of the produce company and began the arduous work of examining all the sacks and moving boxes and bases stored in the recesses of the cellar.

The theory upon which the police are now proceeding is that Goodman was seized as he was passing along Front street, was dragged through the opening, used sliding door, down bananas, was struck on the head with a market hatchet, and then was dragged back among the boxes and sacks in a dark portion of the cellar. A little square space among some cases was discovered this morning with an immense stain, which had evidently been a pool of blood, in a spot where the head of the dead man undoubtedly rested. There is not a question of a doubt but that he was placed there when he had been rendered unconscious after the first assault upon him.

SEEK FINGER PRINTS.

A second theory is that as he was acquainted with people in the commission district he may have walked along willingly enough with his murderer and even turned down Oregon street, only to have been pushed into the trap and knocked on the head. Little spots of blood upon the base and walls will undoubtedly reveal finger prints under a magnifying glass, and the experts of the identification bureau may be called upon to use their skill in determining by this means just what men were present in the basement when the awful tragedy occurred.

The arrest of Rogers, Sarmiento and a man named M. Fratini, who, however, was almost immediately released, occurred just before 6 o'clock yesterday afternoon, and was the immediate result of the discovery of blood on the stone steps beneath the trap door and on the sides of the building itself. A further investigation showed that the concrete floor from the steps back to a pile of sacks were covered with blotches of blood, which had dried, but which were plainly visible after the removal of pieces of straw and other rubbish which was scattered about.

LOOK FOR MORE.

The police believe that the basement will tell further tales and it is also their opinion that more information can be obtained from the men now in custody. Police officers are certain that the blood found was that of a human being, but an examination by the city chemists will relieve any uncertainty in that connection. The fact that Goodman had promised Brilliant that he would bring him some ducks leads to the possibility that while he was intent upon purchasing these that he was decoyed to the place and killed.

Tuesday was the day fixed for receiving a quantity of stock in the cellar and it was necessary that the body be disposed of before the teams began to unload or it would have been discovered. The police believe a suspicious fact in that connection is that Rogers, Sarmiento and Fratini went to work at 4 o'clock on that morning, four hours before the body was found, and Policeman Mahoney is certain they could not have been there much before that hour.

Rogers is on probation from Judge Bledsoe's court on a charge of having stolen a scarf pin from a companion in Oakland. He spent two months in the Alameda county jail. He had been paying money to Goodman weekly on a diamond ring which he had purchased, and admits that he saw the dead man at 3 o'clock on Saturday afternoon.

When Rogers was shown the blood-stained overalls this morning he said: "Why sure they are mine; that blood I got from handling game."

There is considerable game handled by the San Francisco Produce company, but it is understood that Rogers worked in a different department.

Although the police are confident that the blood in the basement is that of a human being, City Chemist Bothe has not yet made a final report on it. Police Photographer George Blum was sent to the San Francisco Produce Company this afternoon to take photographs of the blood-stained finger-prints.

the shooting acknowledged his part in the affair to the police.

The principal part of the state's testimony was introduced yesterday and it is expected that today will see the end of the prosecution's direct evidence.

AIDS THE DEFENSE.

Dr. W. G. Mudd, called today as a state witness, proved to have testimony of value to the defense.

Dr. Mudd rode in the ambulance with Mrs. Patterson when she was taken to the jail after the shooting, and he bore out the claim of the defendant that Patterson struck her, stating that there was a bluish looking spot on Mrs. Patterson's cheek, which the prisoner indicated as the spot where her husband's blow landed.

The witness testified further as to the conversation between himself and Mrs. Patterson, stating that the latter at first told him she did not know who had fired the shot which killed her husband, but later she said that, after her husband had knocked her down he handed her the pistol, saying: "Now, d—n you, kill yourself."

CORROBORATES WITNESS.

Dr. S. D. Parsons, the next witness, told of a newspaper clipping which he said he found near Patterson's body after the shooting, and which he stated he turned over to Police Sergeant McIntyre. The latter, who followed Dr. Parsons in the witness chair, confirmed the doctor's statement, but he was presented to the defense for cross-examination without the clipping being read to the jurors. The item is said to relate to the alienation suit which it is said Patterson purposed filing against a Chicago millionaire.

The police sergeant testified that when he first asked Mrs. Patterson who did the shooting she declared that Patterson did it himself.

CRUEL FATHER SCORED BY JUDGE

"Talk About Whipping Post, Shooting Gallery Is Needed."

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 23.—"Talk of whipping posts in a case of this kind. What is needed is a shooting gallery," said Police Judge Sullivan this morning, in dealing with the case of Frank Kocjan, who stands accused of having cruelly beating his five-year-old daughter Lucille. The child testified that the father had given her the two black eyes and the other bruises about her body by throwing her against the wall, and it was on the strength of her story that the court delivered himself of the above opinion. Kocjan's bail was doubled and he was ordered into custody. He will be sentenced Saturday.

FRIEND RICHARDSON APPOINTED STATE PRINTER

BERKELEY MAN SUCCEEDS
W. W. SHANNON, RESIGNEDTAKES CHARGE
OF OFFICE
AT ONCE

Files Oath and Arranges for Bonds That Are Fixed at $25,000.

Declares He Has Made No Pledges as Regards His Staff.

SACRAMENTO, Nov. 23.—Governor Johnson this morning named Friend W. Richardson, editor of the Berkeley Gazette and president of the California Press Association, state printer, to succeed W. W. Shannon, who resigned several weeks ago.

Richardson received his commission shortly after 10:30 o'clock and immediately filed his oath of office with the secretary of state. His bonds, in the sum of $25,000, were arranged this morning. Upon qualifying he took immediate charge of the office.

The appointment is made under the law enacted under the recent Legislature and places the term at the pleasure of the governor. The Senate, when it convenes next Monday, will be asked to confirm the appointment.

Asked concerning his office force, including a chief deputy, a position still held by Mrs. Shannon, wife of the former state printer, under appointment by her husband, and other positions, Richardson said:

"I have not made a pledge nor a promise to any person concerning appointment in my office. I don't know who will constitute my staff. A chief deputy will not be named until later."

Richardson has been for ten years editor and proprietor of the Berkeley Daily Gazette. Previous to that time he was editor and proprietor of the San Bernardino Index. He has been in the newspaper printing business, including job printing, for the last fifteen years.

Richardson ran against Shannon for the Republican nomination for superintendent of state printing during the state primaries of 1910. He was defeated by a small vote.

BERKELEY, Nov. 23.—In an interview today Friend W. Richardson, California's new State Printer, said:

"I fully realize the importance of the State printing office and the difficulties of the position, and I propose to use my best endeavor to make a good record. I will make whatever reforms are needed in the office and will try and do the State printing as cheaply as is consistent with fair wages and fair conditions. It is my belief that the State can do its printing as well and as cheaply as private firms. I hope to be able to reduce the cost of school text books so as to lighten the burden upon parents."

ANN HARBOR, Mich., Nov. 23.—William S. Mack of Aurora, Ill., a Chicago publisher, died early today at the Beta Theta Pi fraternity house. Mack was taken unconscious from Ferry field Saturday during the Michigan-Pennsylvania football game and his death is attributed to a hemorrhage of the lungs brought on by undue excitement.

RIOT IS SENTENCED

Mrs. Pethick Lawrence Takes Month's Imprisonment Without Flinching; Others Sent to Jail

LONDON, Nov. 23.—Mrs. Pethick Lawrence, the head and front of Tuesday's suffragette riots, was the central figure today of the trial of those arrested during the demonstration. Standing unconcernedly in the prisoners' enclosure at Bow-street Police Court, she listened to the evidence in support of the charge of assaulting the police and obstructing them in the performance of their duty. When the magistrate sentenced her to a month's imprisonment she did not flinch.

According to the evidence, Mrs. Lawrence, at the head of thirty women, stormed the police again and again. She struck a policeman in the face twice and struggled for fifteen minutes when she was arrested and taken away.

Mrs. Lawrence made a statement in court with reference to the poster produced yesterday calling on women to assemble and "see fair play" and protect women from being brutally victimized by the police, in uniform and plain clothes, as they were on "Black Friday," 1910, when, as the result of ill-usage, one woman died and many were seriously injured.

She said:

"I am glad to state that, as far as the police in my vicinity were concerned, there was no repetition on Tuesday of the brutal usage of women. I am inclined to think that what happened on the former occasion was done on the instructions of the government."

The others of the accused almost without exception took their sentences with indifference, choosing jail in preference to the payment of fines.

MAKES SPEECH.
Mrs. Kathleen Robwell managed to deliver a brief speech in spite of the protests of the magistrate. She had broken a big plate glass window on the Strand.

"It is out of my great love for humanity, and particularly my devotion to women and children, that I did this," she said. "Sex discrimination is the root of all social evils, and I am prepared to do anything the militant branch of the suffragettes dictates in order to gain the vote for women."

Mrs. Robwell was committed for trial and refused an offer of bail.

The heads came from the west side of the San Joaquin valley and it is said that the disease is transmitted to the dogs by coyotes in fights.

MOORE GUILTY;
WOMEN WEEP
AT VERDICT

Medium Who Fled With $700 Belonging to Conductor Is Convicted.

His Wife Nearly Has Hysterics When Jury Returns After Brief Deliberation.

Only four minutes were required last evening by the jury that tried H. Robert Sinclair Moore, spiritualist and self-styled medium, prophet, seer and wizard of the "fourth dimension," in the criminal department of the Superior Court, to find him guilty of swindling Walter Bentzen, electric car motorman, out of $700 by means of his "black art."

The jury returned its verdict about 5 o'clock, and when the foreman read, "We, the jury, find the defendant guilty as charged in the indictment," the large audience of spiritualists present, made up for the most part of women, was startled beyond measure. One lady in the front row of spectators sobbed hagen weeping, and the next moment all the women present were sobbing. Amid this demonstration Judge William S. Wells put the prisoner through the formality of setting next Monday morning as the time for passing sentence, and then Moore was led away to the county jail. The medium appeared to be dazed by the verdict. His wife almost went into hysterics and was taken away by her sympathetic friends.

ACCUSED OF ROBBERY.

Moore's trial was one of the most remarkable in the criminal history of California, but the weakness and absurdity of the alchemist's defense was indicated by the brief time it took the jury to reach its verdict. The medium was accused of robbing Bentzen at a seance. Through the influence of his wife, Bentzen became one of Moore's subjects. Moore, who was the electric car motorman, worked up to a high pitch of ecstasy at the thought of gaining free communication with the spirits of departed friends and locating untold riches. The motorman's wife, who had been a spiritist prior to her husband, aided the laundry work for Moore and his family in payment for "sittings" with the medium, entered into her husband's blind enthusiasm over the brilliant prospects held out to them by Moore, and it was while this fanaticism ruled them that the Bentzens drew from the bank their savings of a lifetime and exposed them in thirty-five $20 gold pieces on a table in Moore's apartment on Broadway, where the latter could take them in while pretending to be an innocent bystander.

At the trial, Moore unfolded to him and his wife a scheme for the erection of a magnificent temple in the heart of the Santa Cruz mountains, and that it was with a view to this end that he had come to the city. Moore, who had been a spiritist prior to her husband, aided the laundry work for Moore and his family in payment for "sittings" with the medium, entered into her husband's blind enthusiasm over the brilliant prospects held out to them by Moore, and it was while this fanaticism ruled them that the Bentzens drew from the bank their savings of a lifetime and exposed them in thirty-five $20 gold pieces on a table in Moore's apartment on Broadway, where the latter could take them in while pretending to be an innocent bystander.

The medium appeared to be dazed by the verdict. His wife almost went into hysterics and was taken away by her sympathetic friends.

MOORE IS CALM.

Next to the intense interest that a large number of women spiritualists took in Moore during his trial, the most remarkable feature was the medium's self-possession and the dramatic story he told on the witness stand in his own defense. His story was woven, under the mysterious cover of spiritualistic explanations and phenomena as expounded and practiced by mediums and clairvoyants, and while flimsy when analyzed it was surprisingly convincing.

When Moore was returned to Oakland women sympathizers promptly went to his aid. Two of them, very wealthy widows, furnished the $500 bond upon which he was released from temporary custody and the spiritualists as a body, ably conducted the necessary money and "mediums" to his release. Immediately upon his release on bail Moore began holding seances and conducted the necessary money and "mediums" to his release. Immediately upon his release on bail Moore began holding seances and conducted the necessary money and "mediums" to his release.

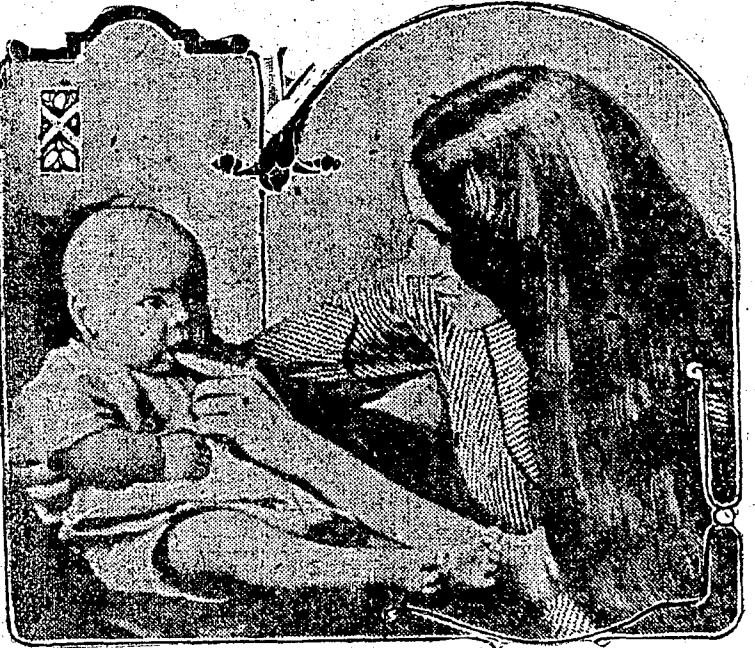

At the beginning of his trial Attorney George J. McDonough, his chief counsel, announced that Moore's several classes numbered 6500 members and that in Oakland alone there were 25,000 spiritualists, many of whom were among the most wealthy and influential citizens of the community.

CAREY RECEIVES LETTER.

During the brief intermission of court that followed when the jury retired to deliberate upon its verdict, Chief Deputy District Attorney Philip M. Carey, who had been in the courtroom, received an anonymous letter which contained a purported explanation of many of the mysterious things Moore is said to be able to do in connection with the spirit world.

The letter follows:

"The Sinclairs had double parlors. Seance held in front room. Daughter supposed to be asleep in back room. Mediums' left weeps. Chairs arranged in front room in form of a horseshoe. Open end toward cabinet.

JESSIE M'DONALD TELLS OF 'LOVE LIGHT'
ALLEGED 'HYPNOTIC SLAVE' SOBS STORY

MISS JESSIE McDONALD, the alleged hypnotic slave of Dr. Arthur W. McDavit, and her baby.

Pitiless Cross-Examination Turns Searchlight on Very Soul of San Bernardino Woman

SAN BERNARDINO, Nov. 23.—With a pitiless directness that searched her inmost soul and brought murmurs of sympathy from the throng of women who made up the majority of the trial audience, Attorney John Campbell cross-examined today Miss Jessie McDonald, the alleged "hypnotic slave" of Dr. Arthur W. McDavit, a dentist, who is being tried on a charge resulting from the girl's confinement in a room adjoining his office for sixteen months.

Going back to the beginning of her acquaintance with McDavit, five years ago, Campbell forced Miss McDonald to admit that after the dentist, who was treating her teeth at the time, had threatened to kiss her if she bit him, her teeth had closed down on his fingers.

"But I did not mean to bite him," she cried.

The girl was then taken through all the details of her relations with the dentist. She told, sobbingly, of a battle she declared she had with him and of having been overcome by his strength and then soothed by the "love light" in his eyes and the tenderness of his voice.

"I was a good girl," she added, weeping.

"If you were in that room for 16 months," went on Campbell, "as an unwilling prisoner, why did you not try to escape?"

"I was afraid of him," the girl replied. "I thought if I appealed for help he would take me away and I would never be heard of again. He was going to take me away the week in which my papa found and rescued me."

GIRL IN DENIAL.

Attorney Campbell centered his efforts on an attempt to show that Miss McDonald, madly infatuated, pursued the dentist and elicited from the witness statements that tended to show Miss McDonald's love for him.

In a bay window, Seance begins—light turned very low with red shade over. Room must be magnetized to get sufficient power, so Dr. McDavit began a slow march around the room, one preceding the other by two or three feet, outside of the chairs and people in the room.

When everything looks favorable, as they pass the folding doors to the back parlor a slight Albert room Sinclair is signalled for one of the daughters to slip into the room and, crouching, walk between them around to the cabinet.

Leaving her there, they again continue their rounds until they get the second daughter into the cabinet. Then Mrs. Sinclair, who always impersonates Dr. McDavit when he materializes, would slip into the cabinet and, endeavoring to make the cabinet which could be carried in a pocket, would come out impersonating different spirit friends of the pupils and then she had learned the fathers with whom or their friends.

TALKED INTO TRUMPET.
Talking through the trumpet is done by means of a short rubber hose slipped into the end of the trumpet by means of a short rubber hose slipped into the end of the trumpet by a child and held by one of the fathers with black gloves on to hide the hands while the hand is held to the mouth to speak through.

Sinclair, through his powers of ventriloquism and a doll as a materialized spirit some of the time. In trying to expose such a performance one should take an electric light to flash on the performers. It should be done at the time the talk through the trumpet, for that is the only time Sinclair would not be too quick for them. But it would be impossible for him to get off his black gloves quickly enough not to be caught, so Mrs. S. says.

He has real uncut diamonds which have been purchased, and the spirits (2) bring them and allow some of the girl pupils to take them to jewelry stores, of course, say they are genuine. These are supposed to come from rich holdings of the Incas ages ago and which the spirits will bring to the pupils if they only put up money enough. Mrs. Sinclair said that if the flashlight was thrown upon him while he was using the trumpet he would immediately fall to the floor (pretending the flash injured the spirit) and so cover up the hoax and give him the chance to get out the hose and gloves hidden, probably in the pocket of the undershirt of Mrs. Sinclair.

It is understood that when Moore appears Monday morning before Judge Wells for sentence his attorneys will give notice of appeal in his case.

BEATTIE CALM
DEATH

'He'll Confess if He Is Guilty,' Says Pastor Who Has Visited Him.

Others Believe That the Condemned Man Will Go to the Chair With Sealed Lips.

RICHMOND, Nov. 23.—Henry Clay Beattie, Jr., avowed at the usual time this morning on what, by law, was the last day of his life. Tomorrow, shortly after daylight, he will expire in the electric chair the murder of his young wife. There were no signs of a breakdown, the prisoner dressing with the same fastidious care that he has taken ever since he entered the State penitentiary and the death cell.

Rev. John J. Fix put in an appearance early and remained with Beattie during most of the day. The elder Beattie, Douglas Beattie, brother of the convicted man, and the attorneys who defended him in the trial joined the minister soon afterward. Neither Beattie's attorneys nor his relatives believe he will confess. His spiritual advisers are of another opinion.

"If he is guilty, I feel reasonably certain he will acknowledge all," said Rev. Dr. Fix. "To go to his death with a lie on his lips would be sacrilege and Beattie is at peace with his maker."

The fact remains, however, that through all the ordeal attending his trial and conviction young Beattie has sought in every way to spare his aged father. The elder Beattie is said to believe in the innocence of his son. It is a question whether the condemned man does not consider that he owes it to his father, to whom he has brought so much pain and so much disgrace, to go to his death with sealed lips.

A report that Beulah Binford, the 17-year-old girl for love of whom Henry Clay Beattie, Jr., is alleged to have killed his wife, had arrived here today caused a distinct sensation. The police at once denied the story but made a close search for the girl, and their vigilance did not relax until word came from New York that the girl was still there and would make no attempt to come to Richmond.

TO DECIDE ON ONE OF THREE SITES

Tracts Proposed for the High School Cost $28,500, $21,750 and $19,988.

HAYWARD, Nov. 22. — At a special meeting of the board of school trustees of Hayward yesterday the three sites offered as locations for the proposed new high school for Union District No. 3 were officially approved. Circulars describing the relative advantages of the locations and actual sites were ordered printed. The circulars also give the cost of the land.

The first site is on what is known as the Russell tract, on Bay View avenue and the Foothill boulevard, the price asked being $28,500. The tract contains slightly more than twelve acres. The second site is located at the end of First and Main streets and contains more than 15 acres and can be secured for $19,988. The last site, known as the Ramon tract, is at the junction of the Western Pacific right-of-way and Sycamore avenue. It contains fourteen acres, the price demanded being $21,750.

The plan of the trustees is to pay about $30,000 for the school site and devote the balance of the proposed bond issue, of $80,000, to the construction of the school house. The money secured from the present building and site of the high school will be devoted to increasing the building fund for the new school, thus securing this action one of the finest schools in the State.

Several representatives of large firms in Oakland and San Francisco have been in the field offering to buy up the bonds in the event of their carrying. The bonds will be for 35 years and will bear interest at 5 per cent.

Frank Rodgers, who was captured November 7 at the Atlantic house after he had held up Louie Aleaux, the proprietor of the place, was held to answer on a felony charge of robbery by Judge Mortimer Smith this morning, bail being fixed at $5000. Rodgers was charged with having taken a diamond ring valued at $1200, a gold-headed cane and $70, the property of William Adams of San Francisco, and deposited by him with Aleaux at the hotel. Rodgers held the end of a soda water bottle against the inside of his coat pocket and pretended that it was a revolver and thus succeeded in forcing Aleaux to give up the property.

BERKELEY, Nov. 23.—Duelling is losing its vogue in German army and student circles, according to P. Boehncke, instructor in German at the university, who spoke last night at a meeting of the Plaudertasche, "Nowadays,"

"It is a very infrequent occurrence to see a duel mentioned in the newspapers. German people are beginning to realize the significance of law and use the courts to settle disputes. Only seldom does one hear whispered that a duel has occurred during the night. Usually the affairs do not result fatally."

GOES TO GLENN COUNTY ON A BEAR HUNT

ALAMEDA, Nov. 23.—E. B. (Hoy) Thorne and W. E. Creed leave tomorrow evening for a bear hunt in the mountains of Glenn county. The hunters will be accompanied by a pack of dogs, which consist of six horses and 16 well trained dogs. The hunters will be away for 15 days.

Thorne expects that there will be little difficulty in securing good bags, as the scarcity of acorns this year has had the effect of bringing the quarry to the lowlands, where they are preying on sheep. Both men have reputations as bear hunters.

HOBSON'S COUSIN AT BELL THEATER IN BRIGHT FARCE

MISS IRENE HOBSON.

Miss Irene Hobson, playing in a comedy sketch entitled "A Business Proposal," at the Bell this week, is not only one of the handsomest women on the American stage, but also has the distinction of being cousin to Lieutenant Pearson Hobson, hero of the Merrimac episode. Although one of the proudest Southern families, Miss Hobson insisted on going on the stage and her success in "The Nazarine," "The Way of the World," and later as leading lady in "The Social Whirl," have attested to her success.

Aside from her name or her success on the stage, however, Miss Hobson prides herself on her mechanical ability. Local boat lovers will be surprised to learn that she owns and runs a 60-horsepower speed launch, in which she has won a number of victories in big races. The talented young woman has added a number of improvements to her engine from designs of her own, and expert engineers have praised her work in this line, so unusual for a woman.

Miss Hobson's talent in mechanical lines has been recognized by several technical magazines, for which she has contributed articles on machinery and dynamo. Miss Hobson has visited all the big shipyards under the tutelage of her talented cousin during his term in Congress.

Between her busy hours of acting and writing her plays, one of which she will produce here, Miss Hobson also finds opportunity to write short

BUSINESS MEN BEATEN IN GAME

Office and Professional Workers Make Poor Showing On Diamond.

BERKELEY, Nov. 23.—The business men of the Berkeley Y. M. C. A. were defeated by the seniors in an indoor baseball game last night in the association's gymnasium, and the contest would probably have been called only on account of daylight had the umpire, Physical Director W. L. Seawright, taken pity upon the office and professional men and stopped the contest much earlier. As it was the seniors got away with the match to the tune of 24 to 4.

The game was a feature of the night's entertainment of membership campaign week, and was witnessed by a large crowd. Later in the evening the Berkeley high school defeated the Y. M. C. A. basketball players by a score of 10 to 0. Gymnasium exercises were given by members under the direction of Assistant Physical Director Saxton.

Forty-seven new members have been obtained as a result of the first two days' canvass by the four teams which are seeking new names for the association's membership roll. The workers began the third day this morning with renewed energy.

GOING TO GLENN COUNTY ON A BEAR HUNT

ALAMEDA, Nov. 23.—E. B. (Hoy) Thorne and W. E. Creed leave tomorrow evening for a bear hunt in the mountains of Glenn county. The hunters will be accompanied by a pack of dogs, which consist of six horses and 16 well trained dogs. The hunters will be away for 15 days.

Thorne expects that there will be little difficulty in securing good bags, as the scarcity of acorns this year has had the effect of bringing the quarry to the lowlands, where they are preying on sheep. Both men have reputations as bear hunters.

WANTS PROPOSED DRYDOCK ON BAY

The Merchants' Exchange Indorses Plan to Bring Big Structure Here.

The Merchants' Exchange at its last meeting took action endorsing the location of a great government dry dock on San Francisco bay, in line with the recommendations to that effect approved at the conference of commercial bodies about the bay, held in San Francisco last week.

The endorsement was in the form of the following resolution, notice of which will be sent to the secretary of the navy at Washington and the San Francisco chamber of commerce:

"Resolved, that the Federal Government be, and is hereby most respectfully and earnestly requested, to establish one of the proposed great naval dry docks on the bay of San Francisco or waters tributary thereto."

SCANTILY-CLAD MANIC CAUGHT AFTER CHASE

LOS ANGELES, Nov. 23.—A raving maniac, scantily clad and giving the name of V. Pelet, a Frenchman of San Francisco, was captured by officers yesterday after a long automobile chase, in the woods near Norwalk, south of here. Ranchers informed the officers that an insane man was at large in the woods, and a search was made. After being captured, and on the entire trip to the Los Angeles county hospital the man fought viciously. Physicians at the hospital say he is one of the worst cases they ever saw. When locked up he became calm and told a weird tale of being persecuted by detectives and doctors, the latter he claimed, wanting his body for dissecting purposes.

'TWO-BIT' BANDITS SOUGHT BY POLICE

Two Calls Sent Out by Leslie
O'Neill, Who Is Set Upon and Robbed.

After sending in two calls for the police and causing a search to be made for suspicious characters in East Oakland, Leslie O'Neill, an employee of the Union water company at its station at Jones street and the Western Pacific railroad company, informed the police that after their search had been made two men had held him up and taken 25 cents in coin from him. He gave several descriptions of his assailants to the police.

O'Neill first telephoned about 12:25 and Captain Thorwald Brown, with a posse, went to the place, made a search of the premises and of the freight cars on the tracks adjoining. They failed to find any trace of the alleged suspicious characters.

Returning to the Melrose police station the police auto halted, and Captain Brown did not get back till 3:35 a. m. In the meanwhile O'Neill again telephoned, and Patrolman Anderson went to the place and made another search. O'Neill informed Anderson that two men had come to the place, held him powerless and had searched his pockets, taking 25 cents in coin.

WULLNER, GIANT IN STATURE AND IN PERSONALITY

DR. LUDWIG WULLNER.

Nothing would be more erroneous than an impression that Dr. Ludwig Wullner might be a difficult man to interview. True, he rather dislikes to be put through the ordeal, but the word of his manager is the only way in which this is made known; certainly not by action or word of the singer himself.

"I have not a great voice," said Wullner. "You see I have been an actor and that is so bad for the voice."

It will be remembered by many that for six years Wullner was the star of the famous Melbourns, of which famous organization the Duke of Melbourn was the patron. It was after Wullner's failure at his first public appearance in concert that the Duke, aware of the young German's great dramatic talents, overcame the objections of his parents and admitted the young man to the exclusive ensemble.

"Yes, I have played Hamlet, Macbeth, Shylock, King Lear, Manfred, Faust and also all of Tegner's great characters. I have done many different things you see. For three years I was a lecturer on literature and the history of the German language. Then I taught at the Conservatory choral and ensemble work chiefly. You know my father was at the head of the Cologne Conservatory and taught both Sembrich and Schumann. He followed the six years at Melbourn; and then I became a singer of songs and have been in this same work thirteen or fourteen years."

It was Brahms, the great composer and intimate friend of Wullner's father and mother, who urged the young actor to embrace concert work. Brahms often visited Wullner, and the two became fast friends. Wullner not only sang for his music was ever a subject of unceasing study and delight—but he also played the violin. He and the great Brahms often would play sonatas together, and also have evenings of song.

ENTERS CONCERT FIELD.

It was after Wullner's success of a performance of Beethoven's Mass Solomonic that he decided to enter the concert field. The tenor engaged for the performance disappointed the management at the last hour, and Wullner, taking his place, sang in such a way that he attracted the attention of the music world. Ever urged by Brahms, Wullner went to Berlin and gave the first of his recitals, thereby setting in motion the most wonderful series of opinions that the concert stage has ever known.

Contemplating these various capacities in which Wullner's genius expressed itself, it hardly seemed that the artist could have experienced the heartaches that are so wonderfully expressed in his singing. When he was asked, he smiled with a childlike simplicity, as though to reassure to the contrary.

"Oh, I feel these emotions; that is all. But life seems such a question to me. I do not know what it means."

Then the spiritual face lowered and the deep-set blue eyes gazed far away. In a moment, however, he had brushed his long gray-blond hair from the high forehead, and smiling again he returned.

Leaving Dr. Wullner is to say that it had been a privilege just to come in touch with that remarkable personality. It was a sermon more in the suggestion of looks and manner than in the spoken word. His is a nature whose spirituality seems to suggest that his thoughts are ever above the earthly plane. The world is fortunate to have in it such a man and such an artist.

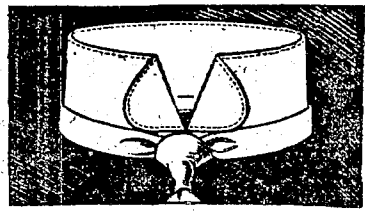

ALAMEDANS RETURNING HOME FROM ABROAD

ALAMEDA, Nov. 23.—August (Harry) Akesson, who with his wife and little son has been traveling in Europe, leave Helsinki, Sweden, today on the return voyage. Mr. and Mrs. Akesson will travel to Southampton, where they will take passage on the big liner Olympic on November 23. They will come direct to New York, stopping in the nation's metropolis and arriving in Alameda about December 15. Mr. and Mrs. Akesson have been away from Alameda since last April. During their stay in Europe they visited Ed Oher, a former Alamedan, who is now in the farming business in the old country.

Akesson took with him his Studebaker automobile and the family toured the continent in it. He will not bring the machine home, however, preferring to dispose of it on that side of the water and purchase a new one on his return.

CAPTAIN EVANS IS HELD ON MURDER CHARGE

The Slayer of Peter H. Jessen
Taken to Alameda City
Jail to Await Hearing.

CORONER'S INQUEST SET FOR MONDAY

The Body of Victim of Duel Is Found Where It Fell After Fatal Conflict.

ALAMEDA, Nov. 23.—Coroner C. L. Tisdale will hold an inquest Monday morning to inquire into the death of Peter H. Jessen, who was choked to death on the scow schooner Rock Island Tuesday night by Captain J. H. Evans, who is held in the Alameda city prison on a charge of murder. Dr. W. O. Smith will perform an autopsy on Jessen's body today. The body shows no marks save traces of the neck where Evans' fingers gripped in the death struggle.

Until the exact location of the scene of the tragedy is determined it will not be known whether Evans will be tried in this county or in San Francisco. The inquest may have taken place on a part of the bay under the jurisdiction of San Francisco. Even Evans is somewhat in doubt of the exact whereabouts of the schooner when the fight occurred.

BODY IS SERVED.

Deputy Coroner William Behrens went to the Rock Island yesterday afternoon after the body of Jessen. The schooner was anchored in the channel off the south end of Grand street, about a mile from shore. Owens, about a mile from shore, was necessary to drive to the Bay Farm Island bridge, secure a launch and steam scow, the channel to the anchored scow. Detective George H. Brown and William Walmuth accompanied the deputy coroner. Commodore L. T. Ward of the Aeolian Yacht Club was also on board the launch.

The body was found crumpled in a heap in the stern of the scow. An arm was drawn up and one leg was bent at the knee. A small quantity of blood had flowed from the mouth and nose. There were marks about the neck and face, though the neck marks were not especially distinct. The shirt sleeves were rolled up, disclosing the well-muscular arms. Jessen was evidently a powerful man, as he weighed 170 pounds and was of an athletic, well-knit build. He was a larger and a younger man than Evans and the latter was handicapped by an ankle still so weak from a recent sprain that the captain limps as he walks. The body was not secured until the best of the death struggle was possibly due to the fact that he was more or less under the influence of liquor and was not in quick command of his strength or senses. He fought in a wild abandon, with the avowed purpose of throwing Evans overboard. Evans fought for life itself and when his hands gripped the throat of his antagonist he squeezed until Jessen dropped dead to the deck. The evidence of hemorrhage may indicate that Jessen collapsed as much from a weak heart as from the choking.

TWO YEARS TOGETHER.

The dead man belonged to Alta Lodge, I. O. O. F., of San Francisco. Before the fire he lived at the old Crystal Hotel, a sailors' boarding-house, on East street, San Francisco. His closest friend, as far as known by Evans, was Peter Hanson of the St. Louis House, East street, between Mission and Market streets, San Francisco. Jessen had sailed with Evans for two years and was a good deck-hand.

Evans, accompanied by his wife, was taken to the Alameda city prison from the Oakland city prison yesterday afternoon at 8 o'clock by Detectives Brown and Walmuth of the Alameda department. He was booked last night on a murder charge. Evans seemed deeply worried. He has been in the employ of W. T. Barton, principal owner of the Union Salt Company, for fifteen years, commanding the scow schooner Rhode Island during all of that time. He and his family moved to Oakland two months ago from San Francisco. His family consists of himself, wife and two grown sons. Evans is 63 years of age and Jessen was about 55.

ALL NIGHT IN BOAT.

Evans was all-night reaching home. He rowed east to the Bay Farm Island bridge and then north past the Aeolian Yacht Clubhouse. The battle to the death on the cramped after-deck of the scow schooner occurred about 8 or 9 o'clock. For perhaps two hours Evans sailed the schooner with a dead man for cargo until he had edged in as close to the Alameda shore as he could go without running aground. Then he had to furl sail, anchor the boat and get ready to row away in the small boat. Perhaps he forgot to cover the lifeless figure behind, or perhaps the strain of the fatal duel, with bare hands and the later ride over the still waters with the dead body of his victim for company, was too much for the captain's nerve. At any rate, after making his craft safe, he set out for home, leaving the body of Jessen to lie where it fell. It was perhaps a two-mile pull to the Aeolian Yacht Clubhouse. He shouted in the dead of night to awaken the boathouse tender to find out how to reach the Park-street bridge over the tidal canal, for he knew this bridge was not far from his home in East Oakland. Then he rowed on across San Leandro bay, looking for the tidal canal entrance. In the inky, midnight darkness he missed the canal and kept on to the north until his rowboat bumped into the bank on the northern shore of San Leandro bay. He still had several miles to walk to his home and day was breaking when he reached his home at 1519 Thirty-eighth street and staggered through the door in a state of physical and mental collapse. After eating he rested for several hours, took a bath, changed his clothes and then started for the Oakland police station to tell his story to Captain Petersen.

Almost all of the States voted on constitutional amendments yesterday, which goes to show that what our ancestors thought does not count for so much in these days of the superior leadership of La. Follette and Murdock. —Charleston News and Courier.

WATCH THE SUNSET IN THE EAST

This is the sum-Sunset Magazine is spending in the big Eastern publications. Watch for the Sunset Indian. It will appear in Review of Reviews, World's Work, Saturday Evening Post, Technical World, Black Cat, Literary Digest, Boys' Magazine, Scribners, Harpers, Success, Chicago Tribune, Pittsburg Despatch, New York American, Boston Globe and a hundred others.

YOU WANT TO KNOW WHY?

Well this is why: The purpose of Sunset is to boost California and the Pacific Coast. Sunset does this each month and every copy sent out is a boost. To supplement this, Sunset is endeavoring to get in touch with every magazine reader in the United States—and we're told there are thirty or forty millions of them—get in touch with these readers and tell them of California; tell them of the Far West, and the opportunities it holds in store for them; tell them of the Exposition, our hundred million dollar World's Fair.

WILL YOU DO YOUR PART?

To make it easy for you, we have organized the SUNSET LEAGUE, the main object of which is to tell people about California, the West, and the Exposition—to give all the people all the facts. Every subscriber to Sunset Magazine is now a member of the Sunset League. There are no dues, no fees, no obligations, except to tell folks about the Far West. All we want is your co-operation and earnest good-will. If you're not a subscriber, send $1.50 for your own subscription or $2.50 for your own and one for an Eastern friend. We'll send a beautiful Card Christmas time to tell him you sent it. Will you join
